H-Bomb War Deterrent, Ike Tells Women

President Sticks To Position Draft Must Be Continued

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP) — President Eisenhower today called the hydrogen bomb a great deterrent to war—a weapon, he said, which tells any potential enemy it would be "suicidal" to attack America.

The President set forth his views in responding to questions put by seven women on a nationwide TV-radio program sponsored by the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee. The Committee said the women it chose to appear on the program were "representative of all walks of life and various sections of the country."

In discussing the H-bomb, Eisenhower did not touch on the proposal by Adlai Stevenson, that this country take the lead to end H-bomb tests.

Draft Must Continue

However, on another proposal advanced by Stevenson — that thought be given to ending the military draft—Eisenhower stuck to his position that the draft must be continued at this time.

Mrs. Louis Martin, a Negro mother of 12, who lives on a farm near Salisbury, Md., told the President she is worried about the H-bomb, and asked:

"What is the future of our families in this atomic age?"

Solemnly Eisenhower replied: "the world must find a peaceful solution" to the great problem the superbomb presents.

"We can never have a hydrogen war and still have a civilization," he said.

Economic Outlook Good

In addition to outlining his views on the superbomb and the military draft, the President:

1. Said all the "predominant economic factors point to continuance" of general prosperity in the United States. He added that in his opinion "the chances of getting a spiral of inflation are much less than they ever were."

2. Declared his administration is doing everything possible to help small business. He said that last year the government took 54 actions designed to "keep big business from squeezing out the little fellow."

3. Spoke of the outlook for America's farmers as "very good."

4. Declared anew that election of a Republican Congress is very important. When the same party that controls Congress also runs the White House, he said, "then you can fix responsibility."

U.S. Scientists Favor Accord For H-Test Ban

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—The Federation of American Scientists said today an international agreement to ban H-bomb tests would be a hopeful break in years of stalled negotiations.

It discussed the question in a statement issued 24 hours after President Eisenhower rejected in detail arguments advanced by Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate, for taking steps now to end the hydrogen bomb explosions.

Eisenhower said "for the sake o peace itself" the United States must continue its nuclear weapons tests until securely guarded international agreements make it safe to end them.

The scientific federation contended today that a reliable monitoring system could be established and "a nuclear explosion ban thus offers a maximum certainty of detection—of violations—without requiring unlimited international inspection."

Prosecutions Pledged If Vote Denied Negroes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—Asst. Atty. Gen. Warren Olney III said today there will be post-election criminal prosecutions in the south if qualified Negroes are denied the vote in the Nov. 6 election.

He told newsmen that "disfranchisement of colored voters is going forward on a mass basis" through revision of registration roles in some areas of Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and North Carolina. Some of the procedure involved is "fraudulent" on the face of it, he said.

Olney named the White Citizens Councils, opponents of school integration, as prime movers in this matter and said a half-dozen FBI investigations are in progress.

"But, Olney said, the "weakness" of existing civil rights statutes makes it impossible for the Justice Department to move until the right to vote has been actually denied on Election Day — too late to help the voter.

"You can't make a case until a qualified voter is deprived of his rights at the polls," he said. "But in every instance where we can show a qualified person was denied the right to vote simply because of his color, we intend to prosecute."

Olney, who heads the department's Criminal Division, disclosed that he has moved in another direction in connection with the reported disfranchisement of Negroes.

He said he had advised Chairman Burleson (D-Tex) of the Committee on House Administration of the results of some of the Southern investigations and called his attention to a section of the 14th Amendment which provides for reduction of House membership for any state where persons are denied the voting privilege "on any grounds except rebellion or other crime."

Olney said such reduction "in proportion to the number of citizens denied the vote," is a matter entirely within the control of Congress.

It was the couple's first child. Peck, 40, has three sons by his previous wife, Greta. That marriage ended in divorce last December.

Poles Told Russian Troops To Stay

NATO German Bases Reason, Gomulka Says

WARSAW, Poland, Oct. 24 (AP)—Wladyslaw Gomulka told the Poles tonight Soviet troops will stay in Poland so long as there are North Atlantic Treaty Organization bases in West Germany.

The new party boss, who led Polish Communists in their political revolt for "freedom and sovereignty" last weekend, spoke before a throng of about 250,000 in Warsaw as news of fighting in Budapest between anti-Soviet Hungarians and Russian tanks excited intense interest here.

Hungarian flags were raised alongside the Polish flag outside the university in Warsaw. A banner proclaimed, "Long Live Freedom in Hungary."

Workers Parade To Square

Factory and farm workers, office clerks and villagers paraded afoot and in trucks to the square in front of the 35-story Palace of culture and Science, formerly known as Stalin Palace, to hear Gomulka. A great cheer went up when he declared, "It depends only upon us how long Soviet troops may remain here."

But his further statement that they would stay as long as the West has military installations in West Germany was accepted in silence.

Gomulka bluntly attacked "anti-Soviet sentiment" manifested in demonstrations in several Polish cities Monday night when Russian flags were trampled. He said the authorities would tolerate no action against the Polish state.

But despite his earnest appeal for an end to mass meetings and demonstrations, a group of at least 1,500 students paraded from the University of Warsaw soon after, crying, "Rokossovsky go home."

Soviet Troops To Retire

Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, a Polish-born former Soviet marshal, remains defense minister. Sent here by Stalin in 1949, he has been a symbol of Moscow domination.

Gomulka said Soviet party chief Nikita Khrushchev had promised that Soviet troops, which had seemed to be threatening Warsaw, would be back at their bases in 48 hours.

He added: "Russian officers in the Polish army will retire. All the Russian advisers in our army will be relieved if our general staff so decides."

He said Khrushchev had agreed that control of Polish affairs would remain in Poland and be decided by the Polish government and no one else.

This was the first definite announcement about the President's election night plans.

60 Die In Arab Retaliation For Rebels' Arrest

RABAT, Morocco, Oct. 24 (AP) — Sixty dead were counted in Morocco today, victims of grim Arab retaliation for the arrest by the French of five leading Algerian rebels. Many were mutilated.

Angry anti-French demonstrations and protest strikes spread across seething North Africa as Arab governments demanded release of the Algerians. In Triploli, Libya, demonstrators stoned the cars.

Among tha 60 dead, mostly Europeans, were seven French soldiers. They were killed and 24 comrades were wounded in two ambushes in eastern Morocco last night. This was the most serious French military loss reported on Moroccan territory since Morocco cast off its status as a protectorate.

Uprising In Meknes

Rampaging Moroccans struck hard in Meknes and the surrounding countryside yesterday and last night, starting less than 24 hours after the five Algerian rebels were seized by a French coup on a plane flight from Morocco to Tunisia.

The actual cause of the uprising in Meknes appeared to be an accidental shot fired by a Moroccan trooper who wounded himself.

The shot enraged demonstrators in the city of 150,000 and the bloodshed was on. Outside Meknes, French sources said 38 farms, mostly European, were burned.

In Rabat today some 5,000 Arabs waving the green flag of the Algerian Nationalist movement, palace. They stopped short, however, after a loudspeaker truck appealed in the name of Sultan Momahhed V that they disperse peacefully.

Mobs Smash Store

In Fez and Oujda, Moroccan mobs stormed through the European quarters, smashing store windows and shouting anti-French slogans mixed with demands for Algeria's independence from France.

French troops in Morocco were placed on the alert. The French Embassy demanded that the Moroccan government act to safeguard the Nrench population in Meknes. French and Moroccan troops mounted guard there in the European quarter, where 20,000 Europeans live.

U.S. Steel Accused Of GOP 'Shakedown'

GARY, Ind., Oct. 24 (AP)—Griffith Rees, Lake County Democratic chairman, accused U.S. Steel Corp. today of a "shakedown" to raise $200,000 for Republican candidates and asked for a congressional investigation.

Rees said he wired Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) of the Senate Elections Committee asking for an "immediate investigation" of a "shakedown of supervisory personnel for contributions to Republican party."

Rees also released a letter he had sent to Gore, charging that foremen are being asked to contribute $20, supervisors $30 and superintendents $50.

Rees said there are about 4,000 supervisors among the 20,000 employes of U.S. Steel's Gary works, world's largest steel mill.

Adlai Charges GOP "Deceit Campaign"

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson said tonight the Republicans were waging "a campaign of deceit unmatched in U.S. politics."

"I don't mind telling you that I am good and mad," the Democratic presidential nominee told a party rally at White Plains, in neighboring Westchester County.

"Plenty of Americans are. We ought to be. The Republicans have been treating the American people like so many children who can be put to sleep with a lullaby," he added.

Stevenson said the Democrats have been partisan in the American political tradition "but we haven't tried to deceive the people on the issues—on matters of life and death and of war and peace. The Republicans have!"

Stevenson said the Democrats "told the people for the first time of the danger to us and our children in continued H-bomb tests."

"Two hundred and seventy of the nation's leading nuclear scientists have backed up this warning," he said. "You know these men would not speak out as they have if they didn't feel deeply that mankind is taking a terrible chance with a terrible new force."

Stevenson said Republicans had "sneered" at this warning by calling it "nonsense" and "folly."

"Don't listen to the Democrats, they say," Stevenson went on. "Just trust Ike."

Time and time again in his speech Stevenson ironically used the phrase "just trust Ike."

Vice President Says Stevenson Is "Desperate"

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 24 (AP)—Vice President Nixon said tonight that Adlai Stevenson has resorted to "tactics of pure desperation" on the H-bomb issue in recent days because he knows his campaign "is not getting off the ground."

"The only explanation for Mr. Stevenson's reckless and dangerous statements on this issue is that he is a desperate man," said Nixon in a prepared speech.

"Mr. Stevenson's injection of the H-bomb issue into this campaign has cost him whatever confidence he might have merited as a candidate for president. I predict it has cost him whatever chance he might have had for the presidency itself.

"When Mr. Stevenson ignored President Eisenhower's long-standing and thoughtful program for atomic disarmament — and even urged consideration of the uncontrolled Bulganin plan — he forfeited all claim to leadership in this time of great world crisis." The speech marked a renewal of the sharp attack on the Democratic presidential nominee on the H-bomb issue which the vice president began last night in South Bend, Ind.

At that time, Nixon sought to equate Stevenson's proposal on halting H-bomb tests with the one made by Russian Premier Bulganin in a letter to Eisenhower last week.

Stevenson said the Democrats "have told the people why Vice President Richard Nixon is not a man to be trusted with the most powerful office in the world."

"We have pointed out the blunt and inescapable fact that this hero of the Republican Old Guard is in line for the presidency of the United States—an office he could never attain on his own merit," Stevenson said, adding:

"You know his reactionary voting record and his shameful campaign tactics up to this election year. You know the man behind the newly scrubbed mask.

The speech here was Stevenson's third stop on a night tour of greater New York. He previously spoke in New York City and on Long Island.

As he moved about the metropolitan area, Stevenson accused the GOP of "phony" world peace claims and questioned whether President Eisenhower can stop them.

Marine Wives Forced To Quit Japan Resentful

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24 (AP)—Twenty-three women and 43 children reached San Francisco yesterday after being forced out of Japan by a Marine Corps policy.

Gen. Randolph McC. Pate, Corps commander who said he wanted a "mobile combat force" in the Far East, declared his men must not be "encumbered by dependents or garrison-type paraphernalia."

All the women except two were wives of officers with ranks from lieutenant through major. The other two were wives of sergeants.

All appeared bitter and talkative but none would be quoted by name.

The San Francisco Chronicle reported one woman said "If we didn't leave, it was suggested that our husbands faced punitive action which might harm their careers."

The women had paid their own fares to Japan and had regular or tourist visas.

Threat Of Dock Tieup In All U.S. Seaports Rises

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—The possibility of a labor strike shutdown of all the nation's seaports rose today unless there is an East Coast dock workers contract settlement by Nov. 1.

Government officials said they feared West Coast longshoremen would walk out if a separate East Coast contract settlement were clouded when the New York Shipping Assn. filed unfair labor practice charges against the International Longshoremen's Assn., representing dock workers on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

The hitch in the New York bargaining is that the ILA, fresh from winning an election from a rival AFL-CIO union, the International Brotherhood of Longshoremen, wants contract talks this year to cover not only New York port workers but all others on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

This is the basis of the employers' charges filed with the National Labor Relations Board. They said that the NLRB twice has refused to broaden the present New York port area bargaining unit to include workers in other Atlantic and Gulf ports.

The West Coast dockers union is the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, headed by Harry Bridges, who has long been reported seeking a working alliance or possible eventual merger with the East Coast ILA.

Army Prepares To Tell Story — But Under Wraps

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—The Army will set out tomorrow to convince the nation i should have a big role in this age of air-atomic weapons. But a no-controversy directive from the White House reportedly will keep some of the Army's ideas under wraps.

Top military and civilian officials of the Army will present their case at the second annual convention of the Assn. of the United States Army. They've been told, however, to avoid touching off any intraservice controversy that might spill over into the political field.

The Army originally intended to lead off with a five-stage presentation of the future Army, dubbed "Futurarmy" for the purposes of the convention.

Although this had been approved by the Army chief of staff, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, it was dropped after high-level Pentagon conferences and a call to the White House.

The Army's difficulties over the program it wanted to present to the meeting of reserve, National Guard and retired officers and civilian industrialists started in the Pentagon. But eventually the issue reached the White House.

President Eisenhower, an old soldier himself, is authoritatively reported to have told the Army to go ahead and tell its story, but to be careful not to stir interservice controversy.

One point of conflict yet to be satisfactorily worked out involves a major address which Secretary of the Army Brucker plans to deliver to the convention Friday night.

Tanya Probe Told Of Red Officials' 'Kidnap' Attempt

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—An immigration official, called before Senate investigators to tell of a father's attempt to take his American-born daughter to Russia, testified today about another case described as an attempted "act of kidnaping" by Soviet officials.

The new incident was mentioned by James L. Hennessy, executive assistant to Immigration Commissioner J. M. Swing, just before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee recessed indefinitely an inquiry into the case of 2½-year-old Tanya Chwastov.

Tanya was taken to London this month by her refugee father, Elexie Chwastov. Her mother now is in England trying to block Chwastov's efforts to take the child to Russia.

Hennessy said his agency had moved into the other case to prevent what he said would have been an "act of kidnaping" by the Soviets. He said he lacked details but that "a certain refugee" had been offered travel expenses if he would return behind the Iron Curtain and take his child with him.

The Immigration Service explained later it had hidden the son of a Polish refugee after hearing from the boy's mother that the Soviet Embassy was trying to lure father and son to Poland.

At the Senate hearing, Hennessy said the departure of the Chwastov girl aboard the Queen Mary on Oct. 3 had created a situation in which the 81,000-ton British liner might be subject to forfeit to the American government. However, no forfeiture action is expected.

The subcommittee sought to learn why immigration officials allowed the Queen Mary to sail with Tanya aboard. The child did not have an American passport.

Red Leaders Claim Rebels Losing Fight

Hundreds Reported Killed By Russian Troops, Tanks, Jets

VIENNA, Oct. 24 (AP)—Hungary's bloody rebellion against Soviet domination and the Budapest Red leadership blazed through its second night and spread to the provinces.

But apparently it was being crushed systematically tonight by overpowering Russian armed force.

Soviet tanks, planes and troops were thrown into the battle for the decisive blow against the uprising workers and students.

Late tonight the Budapest regime claimed it had mastered the rebels but admitted fighting went on.

Moscow and East Berlin broadcasts followed quickly with claims that the rebels were beaten.

Eyewitnesses returning to Austria from Hungary reported many hundreds have been killed in battle.

The first stories were brought out of Hungary by Austrian business men tonight.

They told reporters at the border that Hungarians told them fighting outside Budapest was going on in the cities of Drebecen, Szolnok and Szeged.

Amnesty Ignored

The Austrian travelers said the number of dead in Budapest alone amounted to many hundreds as Russian tanks, jet planes, machine gun batteries and grenades were thrown against rebel bands composed of students and workers.

The Communist government had confidently believed the rebels would collapse by 2 p.m. That was the time of the first ultimatum promising amnesty. Then the amnesty was extended to 6 p.m. Still the rebels ignored it defiantly.

Then the government declared all-out war, saying it would execute every rebel who fought on.

But as midnight neared radio Budapest still admitted there was heavy fighting in sections of the capital.

In the latest Budapest broadcasts the government claimed the Russian and Hungarian troops were winning the battle of Budapest and that "more and more youngsters" were surrendering and abandoning their arms.

There was still no explanation from either side of how the rebels had obtained guns enough to hold off the combined attack of Russian and Hungarian forces in a lightning revolt that began after an orderly street demonstration Tuesday.

Rebels Have Machine Guns

Radio Budapest claimed that the rebels had machine guns and hand grenades when they attempted to smash into a Budapest military barracks.

"Using all the force at their command the garrison repulsed the attackers," the radio said. It added that the defenders were bracing for a new assault by the rebels.

As the fighting passed the 24-hour mark at 9 p.m. Wednesday the government-controlled Budapest radio alternately sharpened and softened its tone.

When the rebels ignored two ultimatums to surrender under amnesty, the government decreed the (Continue 1 on Page 2, Col. 1)

Planes Collide, Killing Seven

MIDLAND, Tex., Oct. 24 (AP)—A jet plane and a civilian aircraft collided over Midland today, killing seven persons in the two craft and exploding flaming wreckage into a residential district.

Killed in the private plane were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Clement of Bowie, Tex.; their 13-month-old daughter, Cathy; and Mrs. Clement's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Howard of Vashti, Tex.

The jet wreckage plunged into the house of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Saunders. Both the home and plane went up in flames. The Saunders weren't there.

The engine of the prop-driven private plane, a Cessna 170, crashed into the kitchen of Mrs. Billie Crowe. She and her children, Janice, 1, and Debora, 3, were in the living room at the time. They were unhurt.

Clement, a trucking company owner, was piloting the Cessna.

The body of one man crashed through the roof of a home and landed in a bath tub. The child's body was found in a flower bed and the bodies of others were strewn about Permian Estates, a residential area.

Ike To Make Three Trips, Six Speeches

President To Visit Five States Next Week

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP) — President Eisenhower will make three separate campaign trips next week, traveling into five states including three in the South which supported him in 1952.

Press secretary James Hagerty announced the schedule today, emphasizing that Eisenhower will return to Washington at the end of each day, primarily to keep tab on developments in the Soviet satellite states.

Eisenhower will fly to Florida and Virginia on Monday; Texas and Oklahoma on Wednesday; and Pennsylvania on Thursday. He will make six speeches, five of them at airports. The only major address will be at Philadelphia.

These activities will carry the President's campaign through Nov. 4 — just five days shy of the Nov. 6 election. But Hagerty made it clear Eisenhower will be delivering more speeches before the campaign windup.

Three of the six speeches the President has scheduled for next week will be made Monday.

Eisenhower will leave Washington at 8:40 a.m., and fly to Miami for a noon appearance at International Airport there. He then will fly to Jacksonville, Fla., arriving for a talk at Imeson Airfield at 2:05 p.m.

Winging back to the capital, Eisenhower will stop at Byrd Field, Richmond, Va., for an airport address about 4:40 p.m.

Hagerty said the President originally had planned to take two days for the visits to Florida and Virginia. He said the plans were revised because of the situation in the Soviet satellites.

On Wednesday, Eisenhower will leave Washington by plane at 8:30 a.m., and arrive at Love Field in Dallas, Tex., at 12:30 p.m. for an airport talk.

Then, before returning to Washington, he will fly to Oklahoma City for a speech at Will Rogers Field there at about 2:25 p.m.

Eisenhower will switch to a train on Thursday to travel to Philadelphia for a national radio-television address —NBC— from Convention Hall at 9:30 p.m., EST.

death penalty for every man who fought on. Later this was softened to mercy under "extenuating circumstances" for rebels who surrendered after the deadline of 6 p.m.

But as outsiders wondered at the stunning defiance of Communist armed might in the satellite capital of the Danube, fighting went on.

In its last newscast before Wednesday midnight Radio Budapest said the capital's ambulance service had been working around the clock, bringing wounded to aid stations.

The radio gave no indication of the number of casualties.

GM Earnings Drop Sharply

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (AP)—General Motors Corp., biggest of the automobile industry's big three, today reported third quarter and nine month earnings sharply below 1955's boom year.

Net income for the first nine months of the year was $639,585,399, a far cry from the $912,887,537 earned during the similar period of 1955 as GM headed for its distinction of being the first corporation to make a billion dollar profit in one year.

For the third quarter alone, earnings were $236,113,576 compared with $251,925,595 for the July-September period a year ago.

Lower profits by the giant concern were not totally unexpected, coming on the heels of similarly decreased earnings announced yesterday by the Ford Motor Co. In addition, weekly production figures from Detroit have shown General Motors trailing far behind its 1955 production pace.

Earnings per share were virtually cut in half during the third quarter—48 cents per common share compared with 90 cents a share in the similar 1955 period. For the nine months, earnings were $2.28 a share as against $3.31 a year earlier.

The company said dollar sales of civilian products were the second best third quarter on record, although defense sales were the lowest for a third quarter since 1951.

Government Winds Up Case Against Hanna

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Oct. 24 (AP)—The government sent two more agents of the Internal Revenue Service to the witness stand today in winding up its evidence in the Homer Hanna income tax case.

An imposing array of Charleston residents, including three judges of the State Supreme Court and several Republican attorneys, were on hand to appear as character witnesses for the rotund defendant.

The 60-year-old Hanna is clerk of the U.S. District Court for Southern West Virginia and for years an influential figure in Democratic state politics.

He is on trial charged with evading payment of $31,777 in income taxes from 1949 through 1953.

Special Agent F. Leo Baumgardner of the IRS finally left the stand this morning after more than two days of testimony.

Other agents on the government's concluding roster of witnesses included Michael J. Bartos and Edward Hannell, both of the Cincinnati office.

Baumgardner was questioned extensively on further direct examination this morning by Kinsey T. James, a Justice Department attorney, about alleged discrepancies between two checks and their stubs.

One of them was for $1,000 dated March 27, 1953, which the witness testified was drawn payable to "cash" on the account of the Hanna Insurance Agency and deposited to Hanna's personal account. Baumgardner said the stub was marked: "political contribution."

Baltimore City Office Workers Seek Hike

BALTIMORE, Oct. 24 (AP)—White collar workers for Baltimore City say they're feeling the pinch, and want more of the long green to take them out of the red.

The Classified Municipal Employes Assn., which represents office workers of the city, today asked the Board of Estimates to provide a 10 per cent salary increase for its members in next year's budget. The association's request was made in the form of a resolution, which said the raise is needed to meet the increased cost of living.

City laborers last week requested a 10 per cent wage raise, which would add $1,400,000 to the city's new budget. It is calculated that granting the white-collar's request would add some $3,500,000 on top of this. The firemen want more money, too.

Jail Escapees Back In Cells

ELKINS, W. Va., Oct. 24 (AP)—All four participants in a mass break from the Randolph County jail were back in their cells today.

State Police Lt. W. W. Murphy said one of the men was captured last night a few hours after the escape near Junior, Barbour County.

The remaining three were rounded up this morning by state police, conservation officers and Elkins policemen on a back road off U.S. 33 about seven miles from Elkins.

Officers said one of the trio this morning was on the road and two others were under a cabin. They offered no resistance.

Authorities said the prisoners sawed their cell bars and escaped from the second floor of the jail.

The break occurred about 7 o'clock last night and was discovered 15 minutes later by jailer Dallas Pritt, making his routine rounds. The tool used to cut through the bars was not found.

The men were identified as William E. Kerns, 45, of Elkins; Jerry M. Oberstadt, 34, Roanoke, Lewis County; George F. Franklin, 30, Englishtown, N. Y., and Robert C. Vance, 19.

French, Spanish and Portuguese are widely spoken in Latin America.

Basic Shift Taking Place In Old-Age Aid Pattern

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP) — A basic shift is taking place in the pattern of federal and state care for older persons.

Records of the Social Security Administration showed today that more and more men and women in the older age brackets are receiving assistance in the form of old-age and survivors insurance—better known as social security payments.

At the same time, the proportion of elderly people on state old age pension rolls is diminishing.

One official said the trend is expected to be accentuated by the broadening and liberalizing of the social security laws.

"Social security is not directly taking people off the old-age pension rolls," he explained.

"What is happening is this: More and more, as people reach the age of 65, they are eligible to receive old age and survivors benefits under the social security program, and thus do not go on the pension rolls. The result is, that year after year, the old-age pension rolls in most states are dwindling."

The records bear this out.

In December 1954, 388 of each 1,000 persons aged 65 or over were receiving social security benefits while 183 were on state old age pension rolls.

In June of this year, the number of each 1,000 getting social security payments had risen to 462. The number receiving old-age pensions, financed in part by the states and federal government, had dropped to 173.

Highest ranking among the states in the proportion of older persons receiving social security benefits are four in New England.

In Rhode Island, 616 of each 1,000 persons 65 or over, are covered by the social security program, while only 96 are on the pension rolls.

In Maine, the proportion is 599 social security to 123 pensioners; in New Hampshire, 587 to 97; and in Connecticut, 581 to 77.

Here are the comparable figures for other states as of June this year (social security holders and state pensioners, in that order, per 1,000 of population 65 or over):

Delaware 528—52; West Virginia 496—146; Maryland 587—54; Virginia 405—67; District of Columbia 380—46; Tennessee 332—232.

Baltimore Mayor, McKeldin Join In Endorsement

BALTIMORE, Oct. 24 (AP) — In what was believed to be an unprecedented action, Republican Gov. McKeldin and Democratic Mayor D'Alesandro jointly endorsed three candidates to the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City today.

The two political rivals urged the election of Deeley K. Nice, Reuben Oppenheimer and Edwin Harlan. Nice and Oppenheimer are appointees of Gov. McKeldin seeking full terms.

Nice is a Republican, the other two Democrats.

The Baltimore voters are to elect three of four candidates Nov. 6. The fourth is Mrs. Nellie Marshall, a Democrat, who was nominated by the Republicans in the May primary.

Baby Attendant Pleads Guilty In Shake Deaths

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 24 (AP)—Big, blonde baby attendant Virginia Jaspers, accused of shaking two infants to death in fits of uncontrollable rage, today pleaded guilty to two counts of manslaughter.

Sentencing was postponed until next month, pending a probation officer's report.

Police said she admitted shaking the infants "because sometimes babies get on my nerves."

Miss Jaspers, who is 6 feet and weighs 220 pounds, pleaded innocent several weeks ago, but today she was taken before Superior Court judge and changed her plea to guilty.

The 33-year-old attendant, who cared for infants in their homes, was accused of fatally injuring 11-day-old Abbey Kapsinow of New Haven last August, and 2-month-old Jennifer Malkan in 1951.

The statute of limitations ruled out a third count involving the death of infant Cynthia Hubbard in Guilford in 1948, State's Atty. Abraham S. Ullman said.

Miss Jaspers was arrested Aug. 27, after a doctor became suspicious over the death of the Kapsinow child and ordered an autopsy. It was found the child died from cerebral hemorrhages.

783,358 To 1 Shot

CINCINNATI, Oct. 24 (AP) — An expert says the odds are 783,358 to 1 against it but the names of a man and his wife were drawn consecutively here yesterday for jury duty.

The names drawn from among 391,684 electors were those of Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Lewin.

Defense Chief Target Of Sharp Attack By Estes

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 24 (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver said today that Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson's defense procurement policy "has lessened our defense against attack" by concentrating defense contracts in a few large corporations.

The Democratic vice-presidential candidate also accused Wilson former head of General Motors, of "driving to the wall" Studebaker-Packard Motor Co. after its merger "to survive General Motors competition."

Kefauver singled out Wilson for his sharpest attack as he campaigned through this Motor City today assailing what he called Republican "stopgap election eve prosperity."

Tonight, in a speech prepared for delivery at Carpenter's Hall in the Michigan congressional district represented by Democratic Rep. Martha Griffiths, he ticked off what he said was the Republican record on national issues.

He attributed to the Eisenhower administration "daredevil stunts on the brink of war," and pictured Vice President Nixon as the "dominant force" of the Republican party if Eisenhower is returned to the White House as a "lame duck president."

But it was against Wilson and what he described as the GOP "illusion of prosperity" that Kefauver struck hardest.

Daughters Of Soviet Officers Sent To Jail

MOSCOW, Oct. 24 (AP)—The "Jazz age" careers in crime and free love of three daughters of high-ranking Soviet officers were curbed today with one-year sentences for burglary.

The three girls are Elena Kuznetsova, 23, whose father is an army major general; Alla Maximova, 19, daughter of a secret police colonel; and Tanya Andreyeva, 18, daughter of an air force colonel.

According to the original published account of their escapades in Komsomol Pravda, they had been running around with the sons of Soviet Cabinet ministers.

Today's verdict made no mention of the boys.

At the trial the girls admitted to financing wild drinking parties and weekend trips by auto to such distant points as Leningrad with their boy friends by looting apartments—including that of Stalin's favorite movie actress, Mariyj Ladinina.

11 Mennonites Fined For Placing Farmer In Church Hospital

HAGERSTOWN, Oct. 24 (AP) — Eleven members of the staid Mennonite religious sect were fined a total of $6,000 today after admitting abducting one of their own, knocking him out with hypodermic shots and placing him in a church hospital.

It was the windup of a weird case of church action by the sect, which has a strong following of several hundred along the Maryland - Pennsylvania border near here.

This is the story, as it was related before Circuit Judge D. K. McLaughlin:

Adin E. Hege, 52, a Mennonite farmer, had a dispute with another farmer over a cow. He took his case to court.

By doing so, he broke a church rule. Mennonites cannot ask action by such bodies outside the church, the court was told. So Hege was excommunicated.

His friends in the sect stopped talking to him. They would visit his wife when he was out in the field, or in the barn, but would leave when he started back to the house.

He didn't like it, and he told some of them so.

Dr. Jacob Goering, psychologist at the Brooke Lane Hospital, a Mennonite institution, testified Mrs. Hege told him she thought Hege should be hospitalized. Goering said he suggested the Springfield State Hospital, a mental institution. But Mrs. Hege said she wanted him in a "church" hospital.

About 6 a.m. on Aug. 16, nine men and a woman nurse drove up to the Hege farm. Hege was in the barn milking. While the men held Hege, the nurse gave him two injections with a hypodermic needle.

The men loaded the unconscious Hege into a station wagon and took off for the Mennonite hospital at Lebanon, Pa., about 80 miles away. Two of them stayed to finish milking the cows.

A neighbor happened to see the men loading a man's unconscious form into the station wagon. He called the State's attorney's office, which began investigation.

State's Atty. Tom Kaylor got the story through questioning. He discussed the matter with Pennsylvania and federal authorities since it involved Hege's transportation across a state line.

All thought it best to handle it as a local matter, if possible, because of the strange circumstances.

Kaylor contacted the hospital at Lebanon and asked if it would voluntarily release Hege. The hospital agreed. On Aug. 20, sheriff's

Meanwhile, charges of assault and conspiracy to assault were placed against the 11 persons involved.

They appeared in court today and entered guilty pleas. They were without counsel. Church rules forbid that, too. One of the 11, James Martin, served as spokesman.

He told Judge McLaughlin that Goering had told them that all would be legal and right.

"This man (Goering) gave us advice, and we followed it to the letter," Martin said. ". . . We were led astray."

The state's attorney added: "In their own way, some of the defendants thought they were doing the right thing. They should have gotten better advice."

Avalanche Kills 33

NEW DELHI, Oct. 24 (AP)—Press reports say an avalanche killed 33 persons in the Himalayan mountains 200 miles northeast of New Delhi last week. Heavy rains that have caused floods in India were blamed for the landslide.

County Medical Society Expels Robert Reddick

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 24 (AP) — Dr. Robert Reddick has been expelled from the Dorchester County medical Society in the latest of a series of actions against him in connection with issuance of medical licenses to homeopaths.

Dr. Lawrence Maryanov, society secretary, announced today the expulsion of Dr. Reddick who joined in 1952 and was president in 1954.

Dr. Maryanov said 16 of 18 members at a meeting voted to expel Dr. Reddick, who was present.

Charges against Dr. Reddick were brought six weeks ago by four members and were based on court proceedings against him.

The charges stated:

"1. In court proceedings, it has been proven that Dr. Robert Reddick knowingly licensed unqualified men who were not properly qualified physicians.

"2. The licensing of such unqualified men to practice medicine created a situation injuriously affecting the general health, safety and welfare of the citizens of this state and other states."

The attorney general's office instituted proceedings against Dr. Reddick. Circuit Judge Joseph R. Byrnes ruled that 76 persons "wholly unqualified to receive them" were issued licenses in the name of the examining board of the Homeopathic Medical Society.

The attorney general charged that Dr. Reddick had set up his own examining board after he was ousted as secretary-treasurer of the socity. Judge Byrnes issued an injunction against any further activity by Dr. Reddick.

Dr. Reddick is appealing Judge Byrnes' findings, as he is his discharge by the state from Eastern Shore Hospital at Cambridge as psychiatrist.

Also as a result of Dr. Reddick's activities, the Legislative Council is to receive a recommendation next month that only the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland be allowed to issue medical licenses.

At present, boards of both the Faculty and the Homeopathic Society are empowered to license.

Second Woman Stalked, Attacked

BALTIMORE, Oct. 24 (AP)—For the second time in less than a week a woman was stalked and attacked by a man early today in northeast Baltimore.

Police said in both cases the general description of the man was the same.

The latest victim was Miss Evelyn Horney, 38, a night-working clerk for a wholesale tobacco firm.

Miss Horney was scratched on the face and hands during a five-minute struggle. The man fled, taking the woman's watch, when a resident of the area was aroused by the struggle.

Miss Horney told police a young man in a sweater struck her in the neck and knocked her down.

The attack, near the woman's home in the Northwood section, came as she walked home after getting off a bus.

Marylanders May Set Travel Record

BALTIMORE, Oct. 24 (AP)—Foreign travel by Marylanders may set a new record this year if the present pace keeps up, passport statistics indicate.

In all of 1955, 3,765 passports were issued, for a record.

In nine months this year the total was 3,682.

Wilfred Butschky, federal court clerk, said that between 1946 and 1955, passport applications in Maryland increased 420 per cent.

The serpent, regarded in mythology as a symbol of wisdom, actually is stupid.

Milk Hearing Nears Windup

BALTIMORE, Oct. 24 (AP)—An official of a dairy farmers' cooperative expressed the opinion today that producers are not receiving top payment for milk sold to military installations in the Baltimore area.

Ralph L. Strock, assistant manager of the Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers Inc., testified at a hearing for their request for a federal order controlling prices.

Strock said he compared bids for milk contracts at military installations by distributors dealing with farmers belonging to the cooperative with those who buy from nonmembers.

He concluded the farmers were not getting the Class 1 price paid by dairies for milk bottled and sold to householders. The cooperative would like this price to be raised from $5.59 to $5.69 a hundredweight.

Strock admitted under cross-examination that much of the milk shipped to military installations recently is in five-gallon containers and not the quart containers usually bought by householders.

He was questioned by an attorney for one of the many dairies opposing the federal order and possible price increase. Some producers also are opposed.

The hearing was conducted by a representative of the Department of Agriculture. Four government economists listened to the three days of testimony and will decide whether control is advisable.

State Has Bumper 1956 Tomato Crop

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 24 (AP)—Maryland's 1956 tomato crop for processing totaled 125,600 tons, nearly double the hurricane-damaged 1955 crop, the Department of Agriculture reported.

The 1956 production was about one fifth smaller than the 10-year average.

Frost cut into the pea production and the total for processing was 12,340 tons compared to 12,920 in 1955, although the 1956 figure was still well above the 10-year average of 10,200 tons.

Maryland sweet corn is expected to total 95,800 tons and shelled limas 2,720 tons.

Traffic Violators Facing Crackdown

BALTIMORE, Oct. 24 (AP)—With Maryland's 1956 highway death toll running well ahead of last year, Baltimore traffic court officials announced today stiffer penalties for serious traffic violations.

Chief Magistrate Stanley Scherr announced the crackdown after a meeting today of various court, police and motor vehicles officials.

Starting Monday he said persons convicted of drunk driving will face jail terms and license suspensions of up to six months. He outlined similar stiffer penalties for other offenses.

Speeders will face 30-day license suspensions.

Scherr said Gov. McKeldin plans to support new State legislation as may be needed to curb highway accidents but said the governor feels full enforcement of existing laws is essential in the interim.

So far in 1956, 434 persons have died on Maryland highways, 28 more than in the same period last year. Thirty-nine have died in October.

Church Women's Council To Have Speaker Nov. 1

Mrs. Bertha Jarrett, Pikesville, of the Koinonia Foundation, a Christian Enterprise for World Service, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Cumberland Council of Church Women November 1. The meeting will be held in Emmanuel Episcopal parish house, 16 Washington Street, at 10 a. m.

Plans will be completed for World Community Day November 2 at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. L. G. Bridgers will preside and Mrs. Ross Decker will introduce the speaker. Mrs. Wayne Eberly is to have charge of the devotions.

This year's theme is "For the Sake of My Brethren My Kinsmen."

Packages for Peace are to be brought by the women of the affiliated churches and will be sent to India, Pakistan, Korea, the Near East, Japan, Greece, Italy, Germany and Hong Kong. These should consist of clothes for boys 16 years old and up; men's clothing, suits and overcoats, yardage of denim and sheeting for refugee mothers to make work clothes for their husbands and sons (three yards are needed for a pair of men's trousers.)

An offering of money will be taken to help the Department of Inter-Church Aid Service to ship these overseas.

Exhibits, Reports Mark Day

Bowling Green Progressive Young Women and the Cresap Homemakers Clubs held their Achievement Day program jointly at Cresaptown Methodist Church hall. Mrs. W. A. Judy, first president of Cresap club, gave the invocation. Mrs. Arlie Borror, now president, led the flag salute and Mrs. David Scollick, vice president, extended greetings.

Group singing was led by Mrs. Thomas Millar, accompanied by Mrs. Herbert Heineman. Mrs. Harry Barton, Mrs. K. O. Nelson, Mrs. James Armstrong and Mrs. James Ritchie, from the Progressive club, presented two musical numbers, "Just a Closer Walk with Thee," and "Little Old Lady," with Mrs. Edward Lewis, Cresap club, portraying the lady seated in a rocker. Mrs. Caleb White was at the piano.

Highlights of the year's activities were given by Mrs. Harrison Shanholtz, Bowling Green; Mrs. Armstrong, Progressive club; and Mrs. Borror, Cresap. Mrs. T. E. Williamson, LaVale club, reported on her trip to the National Homemakers convention in San Antonio, Texas. She distributed the newly adopted NHD Council song, "Ever Onward," by Dorothy Bullock, then the group sang it.

Antiques displayed included a hand-blown colored glass vase salvaged during the Johnstown flood; an "up and down" churn, tintype pictures, flatiron, one of the first safety matches manufactured in America, an inkwell, cut glass, milk glass, amber glass, lusterware, a homespun wool hood, embroidered baby dress, baby shoes, ladies' hightop button shoes, a gas mask, steel helmet from World War I, two Civil war belt buckles, and a booklet containing the constitution and names of Confederate soldiers enrolled from Hampshire County, W. Va.

Other tables were filled with handmade rugs, pillows, quilts, pillowcases, dresses, dance costumes, paintings, refinished articles, flower arrangements and vegetables.

A covered dish luncheon was served by Mrs. David Scollick, Mrs. John Thompson, Mrs. Melvin Miller, Mrs. Gordon Miller and Mrs. Harold Lewis. Recreation was directed by Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Bess Sweene and Mrs. Edward Lewis. The program closed with the group singing "Blest Be The Tie."

District 1 Club Receives Recognition For Awards

Formal recognition for winning top honors in the state and placing nationally in the Community Achievement contest, sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the Sears Roebuck Foundation, was made to the Junior Woman's Club of Hampstead, member of District 1, MFWC, earlier in the month.

Presentation of the state certificate was made by Mrs. William A. Douglas, LaVale, president of the Maryland federation. Mrs. E. Irving Baumgartner, Oakland, president of the First District, was one of the honored guests. The ceremony took place in North Carroll High School, Hampstead. John E. Terrell, assistant director of public relations of Sears Roebuck Foundation, presented the Community Achievement Contest award. Mrs. Robert Sauerhammer, president of the Hampstead club, extended greetings and on behalf of the club accepted the award. Mrs. Mildred W. Wells, director of the contest, GFWC, was the speaker.

Othr guests honored were W. Leslie Wheeler, mayor of Hampstead; Dr. Robert Gardner, superintendent of Springfield State Hospital; Mrs. Jordan B. Chiarattini, president of the Woman's Club of Hampstead; and Mrs. F. William Tillinghast, state chairman of the contest.

The Junior Club won first prize of $200 in Class A (membership under 75) and a sweepstakes prize of $100 (regardless of membership) in the state contest. Mrs. Robert C. Muller, who was president last year when the project was organized and executed, received the award for the club last May at the state convention in Baltimore. Mrs. Sauerhammer was present in Kansas City, Mo., to receive the national award in Class A for winning second prize as one of five winning clubs.

These awards were based on accomplishments of the newly-formed club for the two-year period. Hospital day was the club's outstanding contest project. All civic organizations entertained 38 mental patients from Springfield State Hospital for a day. An outgrowth of the Hamstead group's working together has led to the organization of a Community Council. Mrs. Muller is serving as council president.

Titoism Poses New Dilemma For Russians

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

International communism, still not recovered from the confusion caused by the downgrading of Stalin, is now facing an even more serious crisis.

The Stalin thing, although confirming what the rest of the world had been saying about him for years, was primarily a family affair.

Today, with the spread of independence demonstrations in the European satellites, both the central command at Moscow and the parties in other countries have a factual situation with which to deal.

Demands for free elections in Hungary, and shouts for freedom of the press, represent a most effective denial of the Communist thesis that these things are not needed by their "dedicated" workers.

The agreement between the Communist parties of Yugoslavia and Hungary is not an important part of the independence movement, although it could become so. It is so far an outgrowth of the pacification efforts directed at Tito and begun in Moscow more than a year ago. It has as its background, however, the "liberalization" statements made by Khrushchev. These statements gave nationalist leaders in the satellites just enough rope so that they now may be able to jerk it out of Russia's hands. From a settlement of the 1948 feud Hungary and Yugoslavia may be able to progress toward a united front against Kremlin control.

Developments more and more suggest that Tito's recent visit to Yalta was a Russian effort to get him to slow down.

Titoism has now, however, become an objective for a large part of Eastern Europe.

If the international party headed by Russia condemns this movement, it will be taking a public stand against the workers in Poland, Hungary and elsewhere toward whom it professes so much sympathy.

If it condones, it will be a sign that Russia is losing her grip in her effort to use communism as a weapon to expand Russia's sphere of influence.

In this dilemma, it is understandable why Moscow has been so slow to react to events in Poland, and how Hungarian officials can promise elections.

One worry of the Russian government must be that these events are taking place so close to home, where the news will spread regardless of all efforts to suppress or color it. There are people in Soviet Russia whose histories are as full of the search for independence as are those of the Poles, the Bohemians and the Magyars.

International communism is revealing an ineptness which the world had long despaired of seeing. As it seeks to wriggle off the hook, it will go through some very interesting contortions.

Vicar On Rock 'n' Roll

PEASMARSH, England, Oct. 24 (AP)—The Rev. Lewis Roberts, Anglican vicar, wrote in his parish magazine "it is possible that Christ was used to music and dancing very much like rock 'n' roll.

"He did not condemn it. He did not stop it. So why should we? We have all been young once and this world would be a dismal place if these exercises of our limbs and vocal organs were regarded as criminal and sinful."

National Affairs Today

by David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Present-day politics must inevitably cause many of its practitioners to hang their heads in shame. For campaigning today seems to be devoid of morality. It has gone so far in the widespread use of deceptions and untruths, as a means of seeking to win votes, that the American people may well wonder why the politicians think the majority of the voters have so little intelligence as to believe these misrepresentations.

Before the presidential campaign began there was pious talk about "moderation." But gradually it has become apparent that former President Truman, the champion of the "give 'em hell" technique, has dominated the style and strategy of the Democratic nominee, Adlai Stevenson.

Adlai Uses Innuendo

The Republican spokesmen, too, have fallen victims to the strategy and have tried to return arguments in kind. The cries of outraged provocation — "He hit me first"—always lead to more charges and countercharges.

Adlai Stevenson has made the basis of his campaign an innuendo that there's some kind of crooked relationship between the Eisenhower administration and "big business." Yet he himself, in an article in Fortune magazine in October 1955, complained that "it became part of the ritual of New Deal politics to castigate a business system that has always been recognized by Americans as the only permanent source of the jobs and consumer purchasing power which 'the government' was trying to restore."

Even today Mr. Stevenson says now and then a kindly word for big business enterprises as such, but nevertheless conveys the impression that there is a crooked partnership between the administration and big business men. The political objective, of course, is to imply corruption and dishonesty and to convey the idea that the administration is crooked through and through. This type of campaigning, of which Kefauverism is a shocking example, shows no signs of abatement as election day draws near.

Mistakenly Blames Ike

Mr. Stevenson lately has been blaming the "tight money" situation on the present administration when he knows very well that the Federal Reserve Board, which fixes money rates, is not a part of the administration but is a non-political body set up by the banks of the nation as provided by a law passed under a Democratic administration. Before President Eisenhower came into office — in fact, until the last year of the Truman administration — the Treasury Department did interfere and meddle in the fixing of interest rates. But now that the Treasury has refrained in the last few years from doing what it should never have done anyway, Mr. Stevenson attempts to make this a political issue and blames Mr. Eisenhower for this anti-inflation restraint called "tight money."

Does this mean that, if elected, Mr. Stevenson would subject the Federal Reserve Board to political pressure?

Mr. Stevenson is not the only demagogue in the campaign. Governor Harriman speaks recklessly and blames President Eisenhower for not having endowed Colonel Nasser with a conscience and the men in the Kremlin with a sense of morality.

Another example is this comment in a recent speech by Mr. Stevenson: "They (the Republicans at their convention) deliberately and dramatically threw Joe Smith — American — out, and put Richard Nixon—Republican—in."

The innuendo that a Republican is not an American is one that savors a bit of the "party of treason" stuff that the Stevenson camp has been criticizing. So presumably it will be said that this is an answer in kind.

Perhaps the most glaring misstatement came from Mr. Stevenson the other day, when, calling for the election of a Democratic Congress, he proclaimed solemnly at Flint, Mich.: "We Democrats are not a house divided." Here is bland indifference to the fact that the Democratic party of the South helped to wreck the federal aid-to-education bill and certainly will block a civil rights bill in the Senate.

Stevenson's Deception Worst

The Democratic speakers, on the other hand, can point to Republican misrepresentations, too. It is not a fact, for instance, as some Republican orators claim, that the Democratic party caused both World War I and World War II or had the primary responsibility for the outbreak of the war in Korea. Always, of course, some phases of American policy have had an influence on world events, but to claim that any party in the United States deliberately plunged America into any war in this century is really a distortion of the truth. The Republicans try to justify their comments on war by contending that the Democrats shouldn't boast about high employment as a normal thing during their tenure, when it was accomplished for the most part through wartime expenditures.

The worst deception, however, is in connection with Adlai Stevenson's speeches on the H-bomb tests and the draft. Reports from different parts of the country indicate that many women voters may have been led to believe that, if Mr. Stevenson is elected, he will abolish the H-bomb and end the draft.

Yet this comes under the head of campaigning. Expediency, misrepresentation, innuendo, guilt by association, anything to get elected — all these are the characteristics of the present campaign. It looks as if 1956 will establish some kind of record for unfairness and unmoral partisanship.

BIG GREETING—Harry Jobson's 20th wedding anniversary "card" was a big surprise to his wife, and a lot of other people too. The greeting, on a real billboard about 12 by 25 feet in size, was presented to Mrs. Jobson yesterday at Miami. The surprised expression was even better than that produced by flowers or candy, he said. (AP Photofax)

Barbers Pledge Shop "Cleanup"

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Oct. 24 (AP)—Barber shops in New Jersey are going to get a clean shave.

More than 450 delegates of the Associated Master Barbers Assn. of America, New Jersey chapter, said this week they would trim cheesecake calendars, suggestive comic books and scandal magazines from their shops.

The barbers also pledged at their convention to guard their conversation with adult customers when little shavers are present.

U.S. Reds Deny Receiving Directives Via London

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (AP) — The American Communist party yesterday described as "slander" a report that it is receiving directives through a contact man in London.

"The Communist party is an independent American working class party making its own decisions," said its national chairman, William Z. Foster, and Eugene Dennis, general secretary, in a statement.

The New York Herald Tribune in a copyrighted dispatch from London said directives are relayed from Moscow through John Williamson, a deported American Red leader. The dispatch said Williamson writes a regular daily column in the London Daily Worker titled "The American Scene."

The statement from Communist headquarters here said:

"Today's press seeks to revive the threadbare slander about U. S. Communists receiving 'directives' from abroad. This time the ancient canard is embroidered with the charge that John Williamson, national committee member deported to Scotland last year, is the vehicle of these alleged 'directives.'

"A mere glance at current newspapers makes clear that American Communists are making up their own minds on all events, be they developments in our own election campaign or the Polish situation. . . ."

The statement said any directives for the party in this country will be laid down at its 16th annual convention, scheduled next Feb. 11-14 in New York.

Political Claims, As Customary, Counterbalance In Tennessee

By ARTHUR EDSON

MEMPHIS, Oct. 24 (AP)—Tennessee stretches from the Mississippi to the mountains like a skinny, 500-mile long finger.

And anyone who travels this normally Democratic state, trying to determine whether Dwight D. Eisenhower can pull another upset and win its 11 presidential electoral votes again, will find that, politically, it's a finger that is curiously disjointed.

Here in the west, where cotton is king, Tennessee is heavily — sometimes overpoweringly — Democratic. Move east, and you'll find Republicans along about where the first knuckle would be.

The middle, around Nashville, turns Democratic again. And finally, in its mountainous tip, Tennessee has areas as determinedly Republican as anything Vermont can produce.

This is one of four Southern states Eisenhower carried in 1952 —he also took Texas, Virginia and Florida—and it's the one he should have the most trouble holding. Almost 900,000 ballots were cast here in 1952, and Eisenhower beat Adlai E. Stevenson by only 2,437 votes.

With Eisenhower and Stevenson rematched on Nov. 6, the winner may depend on what happens at the far ends of a long state.

Democrats count heavily on Shelby County, where Memphis is, to roll up the margin they need for victory. When the late E. H. Crump was at the height of his political power, Shelby used to go Democratic by as high as 60,000 votes.

Four years ago Stevenson had an advantage of only 6,600 votes here, and it licked him.

Claims Counterbalance

Republicans count heavily on another bumper crop in eastern Tennessee, where four years ago Eisenhower led Stevenson by 95,185 votes. An example of what Stevenson is up against in the hill country: Johnson County at the eastern tip, went for Eisenhower, 3,590 to 506.

As usual, the political claims counterbalance.

Buford Ellington, state agriculture commissioner and Democratic campaign director for Tennessee: "We are assured of a landslide victory."

Guy L. Smith, editor of the Knoxville Journal and manager of the Eisenhower race: "We'll win by 100,000 votes."

Despite this Republican optimism, most neutral observers think the Democrats have the edge in the argument over who will carry Tennessee.

Here's what the Democrats say they have going their way:

Tennessee is so habitually Democratic that only three times in history has it supported a Republican presidential candidate. Democrats figure that from the farm population alone — with farmers fretting over prices and, in western Tennessee, over the drought—they will get enough changes to win.

Sen. Estes Kefauver has been a big vote-getter in his home state, winning re-election two years ago by a margin of 2 to 1. As the vice-presidential candidate, Democrats say, he's bound to help Stevenson.

Many Tennesseeans have a fierce pride in the Tennessee Valley Authority. Democrats keep telling the voters that Republicans are lukewarm, if not downright hostile, to TVA.

Demos 'Disorganized' In '52

Furthermore, Democrats say four years ago they were disorganized and disgusted at what they thought was the unfair treatment given Kefauver at the 1952 Democratic National Convention.

But the Republicans have their talking points, too.

Turn again to Guy L. Smith. He's Republican and figures on a get-out-the-vote drive to put Eisenhower across.

He believes Tennessee will cast 100,000 additional votes, and from these, he predicts, will come an Eisenhower victory.

Like Republican leaders everywhere, Smith is banking on a large turnout by the women, who he thinks will favor Eisenhower. And he also believes the GOP will get a larger share of the Negro vote in Tennessee.

One Negro who agrees with him is Lt. George W. Lee, a Republican leader in Memphis.

Lee believes 140,000 Negroes are registered in Tennessee. Four years ago, he figures, Eisenhower got only around a third of the Negro vote. He's hoping for a large increase because, he said, under the Republicans "the whole atmosphere has changed. For the first time he — the Negro — seems like a human being."

Negro Disagrees

But Dr. J. E. Walker, an influential Negro businessman here, disagrees.

"Kefauver is one of the most popular leaders the Negro has," Walker said. "He wouldn't sign that Dixie Manifesto—on the Supreme Court's ruling on public school integration. We couldn't desert him now."

When you move around Tennessee, talking with the voters, what you hear largely depends on what part of the state you're in.

Let's start in the west, where Democrats are thicker than the cotton fields, at the little town of Mason, 40 miles northeast of Memphis.

C. C. Massey, who runs the cafe and a 174-acre farm, was talking with 25-year-old John Twisdale, who helps his father farm. Both are Democrats.

What will the farmers do around Mason?

"There's a whole lot of them," Twisdale said, "who four years ago voted for Ike that won't this time."

Massey, who foresees more and more low-priced cotton produced than can be used, said, "We haven't got a chance down here. I don't think Eisenhower is the meanest man in the world, or anything like that, but I think he's a rich man's president."

But you can find Eisenhower supporters, even in deepest Dixie. J. M. Marshall, who has 1,100 acres, thinks the Democrats use the farm question to buy votes, and that unless the trend changes cotton will become so high-priced synthetics will take over.

"I think those who do some thinking for themselves," Marshall said, "will think like I do."

John Hill, a Negro who has 15 acres of cotton on his 35 rented acres, has other thoughts about the GOP. "It's all right for the man who already has got his," Hill said, "but not for the poor people."

Now to Watertown, 43 miles east of Nashville and still Democratic territory.

No Ike Landslide Seen

C. R. McDonald, a barber, said he's sure Stevenson will carry Tennessee, and one of his visitors, Frank Groom, agreed. Groom, a farmer and dairyman, said he had talked to two women—he named them—who voted for Eisenhower last time, but won't this year.

Groom's conclusion:

"It won't be any landslide for Mr. Ike this time."

A visit to two grocery stores produced opposite results.

Mrs. Lena Luck, at 81, announced: "I've voted the straight Democratic ticket ever since woman's suffrage."

But Doyle Griffin voted for Eisenhower four years ago and will do so again. Had he heard of any switches? "Frankly, no," Griffin said. "Those who are blowing about Stevenson were doing the same thing four years ago."

Now Morristown, 42 miles east of Knoxville.

Frank Janeway has a 72-acre farm and works in outside plants to help make a living. He raises tobacco and a little corn, and will vote for Stevenson as he did in 1952. "The farmer," Janeway said "has been hurt worse than usual."

Both parties continue to argue, hopefully, that they appeal to the young. But Charles Lee, a 22-year-old who works with cinder blocks, is ready to cast his first vote, and doesn't know who will get it. "None of the fellows I run around with," Lee said, "says anything much about politics."

Whittlers' Opinions

Down by the railroad tracks the whittlers were hard at it.

"You ought to see the gang up here on Saturday, swappin' lies and tellin' jokes," Harrison Grooms, a retired railroad watchman, said. He's a Republican, past present and future. "I dread those wars," he said.

Jack Snowden was the only Democrat in this GOP stronghold. And though he did his best, he was out-talked by Roy Trend and Sam Arwood.

Arwood, a plasterer-contractor, had an additional reason for staying with the GOP. "I know Kefauver," he said. "Even if he was a Republican I wouldn't vote for him."

Trend, a farmer, was asked what other farmers were doing. "They might change, some of them," he said.

J. G. Shockley, who has been a soldier, a farmer and "first one thing and then another," looked shocked when asked about his politics.

"I don't know of a Shockley," he said, "that was a Democrat. If they were, we'd kill him."

They take their politics hard, and straight, down here in Tennessee.

BOO!—Cheryl Jones of Ogden, Utah, thinks she is scaring the daylights out of you as she pops out of an oversized pumpkin. She is wishing you a happy Halloween.

Ike Backs More Aid For Disabled Vets

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he will ask the next Congress to increase the compensation of totally disabled veterans.

He said he believes they now are undercompensated.

Eisenhower's statements were in a letter to James A. Sheehan, associate editor of the National Tribune. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty described the publication as the successor to Stars and Stripes.

Prisoner Freed Twice Same Day

BALTIMORE, Oct. 24 (AP)—Harvey Daniels, 35-year-old Negro from Washington, got out of the Maryland House of Correction yesterday and three hours later was back in the pokey.

No amount of explanation from Daniels could convince the arresting officer that Daniels had been legally freed.

A check with prison authorities showed, however, he had been released and that it is customary to turn a prisoner lose in prison garb when he owns no other clothing.

Winebrenner Is Promoted

MT. SAVAGE — Kenneth W. Winebrenner, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Winebrenner, Mt. Savage was recently promoted to Specialist Third Class while assigned to the 2nd Antiaircraft Artillery Group at Fort Niagara, N. Y.

Specialist Winebrenner, a radar plotter, entered the Army in March, 1955, and received basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C. He is a 1952 graduate of Mt. Savage High School.

Purchaser Finds 64 Acres 'Missing'

ROCKVILLE, Md., Oct. 24 (AP)—The Montgomery County Council last night agreed to buy back a $110.76 tax certificate for 64 acres because the purchaser of the certificate can't find the 64 acres.

Attorney Robert E. Bullard of Rockville bought the certificate at a tax sale. This action normally would have permitted him to take over the 64 acres if back taxes on the land weren't paid after a certain time.

Bullard, however, got lost when he started tracking the title to the property. He went back to 1811, he said, and then "records of the property cease to exist."

The county division of assessments admitted to "title difficulties" but added it "is not convinced that the property does not exist."

The division will investigate, perhaps in the Colesville election district near the Prince Georges border—where the 64 acres are supposed to be.

19 Executed Polish Army Officers "Rehabilitated"

WARSAW, Oct. 24 (AP)—Poland's prosecutor general, Marian Rybycki, disclosed yesterday that 19 Polish army officers executed in 1951 on spying charges have been posthumously rehabilitated.

The disclosure brought immediate demands by one paper that the full story of what it called "this terrible murder" be made public.

The Polish Evening Express, in an article signed by Henryk Holland, indicated that the prosecutor's statement was the first news the men had been executed and said it destroyed a myth that no political executions occurred in Poland between 1948 and 1955.

The article said the prosecutor's statement "is not the end of this affair."

It demanded full details of the whole case, insisted that the bodies be exhumed and reburied with military honors in Poland's national cemetery, and demanded that guilty persons be brought to trial.

ESTES TAKES CAMPAIGN TO AUTO PLANT—Sen. Estes Kefauver waves as he is surrounded by workers at the River Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Company in Detroit yesterday. He took up a position outside one of the factory gates during a change of shifts and greeted workers coming and going to work. Gov. G. Mennen Williams, running for his fifth term as governor of Michigan, is immediately to the left of Kefauver. (AP Photofax)

Traffic Group Asks Fund Hike

BALTIMORE, Oct. 24 (AP)—Taking note of a climbing highway death rate, Maryland's Traffic Safety Commission today requested an increased of 173 per cent in its budget for fiscal 1958.

The increase—from $82,564 for the present fiscal year to $225,280 for the year beginning next July 1—is proportionately one of the largest yet requested by any State agency.

The commission wants to establish a new division of women's activities, spend an extra $25,000 for traffic safety signs and nearly double its staff.

State Police reported earlier this week that 431 persons have been killed on highways of the state so far in 1956. The comparable figure in 1955 was 402.

The request pushed the total that various State bureaus and departments have asked for to about $108,000,000. Of that sum, about 14 million dollars would be supplied by the federal government.

The grape was probably introduced into southern France and Italy by the Phoenicians about 600 B.C.

Chinese Causeway

HONG KONG, Oct. 24 (AP)—Red China has finished a granite causeway linking the mainland with the heavily fortified island of Amoy opposite Formosa, says Peiping radio.

The causeway is a mile and a quarter long. It will make it easier to reinforce and supply Amoy, whose gunners often duel with Chinese Nationalist artillery on nearby Quemoy Island.

Legal Obstacle Kept Ike Off TV

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—The Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners wished to televise President Eisenhower's address at the union's 75th anniversary dinner last night, the White House disclosed today, but ran into a legal obstacle.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the law forbids the purchase of political broadcast time by any group except those organized as political organizations, unless equal time is given to opposition candidates.

Thus, a network which gave time to the labor speech, even though the carpenters paid for it, would have been obliged to offer equal time to Democratic nominee Adlai Stevenson and perhaps the nominees of a dozen lesser parties.

Road Director Faces Tipsy Driving Charge

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 24 (AP)—Oklahoma's state highway director, C.A. Stoldt, faces charges of drunken driving and assault and battery.

Lt. T. J. Wilson said he arrested Stoldt this week after seeing him drive the wrong way on a one-way street.

Stoldt also was booked on a charge of driving without a license. Wilson said Stoldt's license expired Sept. 30.

Stoldt was taken to the city jail. Officer L. C. Nichols said Stoldt came out of his cell without permission when he opened it to let two other persons out. He said he started to put Stoldt back in the cell and Stoldt backhanded him on the nose, causing it to bleed.

The officer said he struck Stoldt back "one time on the nose," grabbed his belt and "helped him back in the cell."

Stoldt was taken to Mercy Hospital where officers said he declined treatment. He was returned to jail and released on bond.

Duke Faces Boycott

SINGAPORE, Oct. 24 (AP)—The leftist People's Action party announced it will boycott all functions given for the Duke of Edinburgh, husband of Queen Elizabeth, on his two-day visit Oct. 31. A party statement called him a "symbol of British overlordship."

Court Upholds UNESCO Four

THE HAGUE, Oct. 24 (AP)—The World Court ruled yesterday in favor of four U. S. employes of UNESCO who refused to appear in June 1954 before a U. S. loyalty inquiry board.

In an advisory opinion, the court voted 10-3 upholding an Employes' Appeal Board decision that they should be reinstated or paid two years' salary and damages plus $300 compensation each.

The four are Peter Duberg, 44; David N. Leff, 37; Mrs. Annette Wilcox, 47, and Mrs. Kathryn Bernstein.

They had indeterminate contract with UNESCO — U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization — but the contracts were not renewed in June 1955. A UNESCO spokesman said they were dropped with three months pay in lieu of notice.

The group appealed to the administrative tribunal of the International Labor Organization, which serves as an appeals board both for the labor group and UNESCO employes.

The tribunal ruled they must be reinstated or be paid a total of $43,800 for Leff, Duberg and Mrs. Wilcox, and $7,850 for Mrs. Bernstein.

The UNESCO administration challenged the tribunal's competence before the court. The court upheld the tribunal.

Policemen To Get New Uniforms

The Cumberland Police Department will be decked out in new uniforms in the near future.

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn said yesterday he is planning to advertise for bids for 50 new uniforms later this week.

The uniforms will be the same color and material, but will have a shoulder patch stating: "Cumberland Police Department."

Textile Workers Union Pickets National Labor Board

Boyd Payton, former president of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, and now vice president and southern director for the union, headed a group of 21 persons who picketed the National Labor Relations Board in Washington Tuesday.

Payton's group charged that the board has not protected them from being fired for union activities in southern textile industries.

Payton said later he intends to see Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell to outline the group's grievances against the NLRB.

Payton claims that union workers in southern mills were being discharged for union activities and that it has been difficult to get the NLRB to review the cases.

Under the provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act, dismissal for union activity is forbidden.

The pickets stated they represented 171 workers allegedly fired by southern textile mills in the past year for union activity.

Payton claimed that only a few of the dismissal cases have been accepted by the NLRB for hearings.

BEAUTY CONTEST RUNNER-UP—The new Blue Bridge between Cumberland and Ridgeley was announced as an honorable mention winner this week in the 28th annual Aesthetic Bridge Competition sponsored by the American Institute of Steel Construction. The bridge received honorable mention in the contest's Class III, for fixed spans under 400 feet and costing less than $500,000. An Ohio bridge won first place in this category.

Veterans Can Expect Higher Dividends Next Year On GI Insurance Policies

For the first time in 25 years the government will pay a dividend in 1957 to policyholders of five-year term U. S. Government Life Insurance (USGLI), which originated in World War I, according to Benjamin C. Flack, contact representative for the Veterans Administration here.

The information has been received, Flack said, from Harvey V. Higley, administrator of Veterans Affairs in Washington.

Higley announced a $25,000,000 increase in the regular annual dividend for some 5,000,000 policyholders of National Service Life Insurance, (NSLI), which originated in World War II. He said this dividend will amount to $210,000,000 compared to $185,000,000 for 1956, and that policyholders will receive proportionately larger sums.

The first dividend in 25 years on USGLI term policies will come out of the total 1957 USGLI disbursement of $26,000,000 for both term and permanent plan policies. Term policyholders number about 20,000 and will receive approximately $1,000,000. The permanent plan policyholders, numbering approximately 330,000 will receive $25,000,000.

The last dividend paid to World War I policyholders was in 1932. Until just recently, the mortality and disability experience among World War I term policyholders has not been good enough to warrant the payment of a dividend. The continuing good trend of recent years has made it possible to declare this 1957 dividend.

Higley indicates the dividend will amount to about 20 per cent of premiums on these 20,000 term policies.

The regular annual dividend on NSLI (World War II) policyholders of $210,000,000 for 1957 represents a 13 per cent increase over 1956 dividend of $185,000,000 and therefore will result in an average increase of 13 per cent to each policyholder.

Some NSLI policyholders will receive an increase of more than 13 per cent, Higley noted. This applies to the higher age groups.

VA stresses that both the NSLI and USGLI dividends are regular annual dividends and payments are made near the anniversary dates of policies. VA requests that policyholders refrain from writing about their dividends, as this only delays the processing of payments.

The only GI insurance policyholders who will not share in the 1957 dividends are holders of non-participating post-Korea NSLI term and permanent plans. The law under which these policies are issued prohibits payment of dividends.

The first dividend in 25 years, VA explains, applies only to the five-year term USGLI policies.

Local Youths To Canvass City For UNICEF Program

Between 400 and 500 young children traveling in groups and accompanied by senior high school students, will canvass the city Monday between 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. in behalf of UNICEF — the United Nations Children's Fund.

The program is being sponsored by the Cumberland Ministerial Association and marks the first time such a campaign has been undertaken here.

"Trick or Treat For UNICEF" will be the byword. Each costumed youngster who visits a home will carry a marked container for contributions and be easily identifiable by a UNICEF sticker attached to his clothing. All areas of the city will be represented.

No definite goal has been set for the campaign, officials said.

The Ministerial Association said yesterday that whether it be a penny, nickel or dime, "adults can be sure that each coin in a UNICEF container will be tripled to provide triple threats against disease and poverty that haunt six hundred million of the world's children.

"For each UNICEF penny and dollar is matched by countries receiving help at approximately two for one. Each penny provides almost six glasses of milk; each dime enough BCG vaccine to protect 10 children from tuberculosis; each dollar enough drugs to treat a leprous child for three years.

"And in return for these small coins, Cumberland can number itself among the more than 6,000 fortunate towns and cities in the U. S. which have been relieved of the usual Halloween mischief."

As a further example of what a few coins will do, it was pointed out that the price of a comic book will give a child 56 glasses of milk in Korea; an ice cream cone will protect 10 children from tuberculosis in Chile; a candy bar will cure a child of yaws in Africa; and a soft drink will provide a child with 10 bowls of rice in India.

Citizens are urged to listen to the appeal of youngsters Monday night and help them "trick" poverty and disease by "treating" children to the change in their pockets.

About 10 billion dollars worth of free road maps are given to people in the United States and Canada every year.

Women's Day Election To Be Held Today

Harold M. Naughton, local attorney, will be toastmaster at the women's day election year dinner to be sponsored by the Cumberland Local 434, International Ladies Garment Workers Union, at 7 p.m. today in the City Shrine Club.

Mayor Roy W. Eves will give the address of welcome at the event which is in honor of George P. Mahoney, Democratic senatorial candidate, and John R. Foley, Democratic congressional candidate.

In 1929 Lt. (later Gen.) James H. Doolittle made the first all-blind flight at Mitchel Feild, Long Island.

Zoning Board Meets Today

The Board of Zoning Appeals meets today at 8 p.m. at City Hall with one case scheduled.

The appeal involves the application of Frank J. Burton to construct a one-story dwelling on Lots 231-232 Frederick Street. This is a corner lot. The house would sit 30 feet back from Frederick Street, have a two-foot side yard fronting on Fectig Avenue and an 8 foot side yard fronting on the other side. The area involved is in a Residential "A" area which requires 10 foot side yards. The property is owned by Reuben W. Eaton who plans to sell it if the application is approved.

The proposed dwelling would be 36 feet by 42 feet, with frame walls and asphalt shingle roof.

Members of the Board of Zoning Appeals are James C. Gardner, chairman, William B. Orndorff and H. Clifford Spiker.

The bidding:

North	West	South	East
1 club	Pass	1 spade	Pass
2 spades	Pass	3 hearts	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	5 diamonds	Pass
5 hearts	Pass	6 hearts	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of clubs.

Bold bidding and daring play combined with one touch of nature to yield South and his partner a sizable profit in the exhibit shown above.

To his partner's opening bid of one club South responded naturally enough with one spade, and North raised to two. South adopted an aggressive attitude when he started ferreting with a bid of three hearts, which North naturally raised to four. South then made a direct slam try by showing the ace of diamonds, and the North signed off at five hearts South arbitrarily proceeded to six.

West opened the king of clubs and declarer won with the ace, observing that it would not be safe to draw three rounds of trumps, for he would then find himself at the mercy of the spade finesse. The loss of a spade trick would then spell the defeat of the contract. Declarer saw that if trumps broke favorably he might win the hand without reliance on the spade finesse. His plan of action was based on the following count: four hearts, four spades, two aces, and two club ruffs in the South hand. In order to retain as many entries as possible in each hand, he led a low spade from dummy and finessed the jack, losing to the queen. West attempted to cash the queen of clubs, and declarer ruffed in his own hand. He entered dummy with the king of spades and ruffed another club. Trumps were then drawn in three rounds, and South cashed the remaining three spade tricks.

In this hand, West's lot was not a happy one. His choice of a club for the opening lead must receive the unqualified approval of all but the most inveterate double dummy artists. When he was in with the queen of spades, any lead but the club would have defeated the contract, for declarer would be lacking in entries to ruff two clubs and then return to dummy to draw trumps. Perhaps a thoro analysis may reveal that an attempt to cash the club was not the best tactics, but it does seem that it was the natural thing to do.

Rec Board To Meet

The Cumberland Recreation Board will meet Tuesday, November 13, according to James L. Weber, chairman.

The group has decided to meet regularly the second Tuesday of each month, Weber added.

Inside Washington

By Central Press

WASHINGTON—Pentagon manpower planners have worked out a reprieve from the draft for doctors and dentists over 35 years old. The plan is to let the "Doctor's Draft" law expire next July and rely on the regular Selective Service system to provide the number of medics needed.

Planners insist there now are enough recent medical graduates to make possible the reprieve of older men. The chief drawback, however, is that if this step is taken it will mean the men of the armed forces over the next several years may have to rely chiefly on younger and less experienced doctors.

Athletes In Congress

The halls of Congress already are graced by a number of former athletes, amateur and professional, chiefly noted as baseball, football and golf players.

Now is a basketball trend in the making? Two GOP hopefuls could be the core of such a team if they are successful in the election. One is George Mikan, running for a House seat from Minnesota. The other is "Wah Wah" Jones, trying to capture a congressional seat from Kentucky.

Mikan, a seven footer, attained national prominence as a college star in Minnesota. He set and still holds several NBA scoring records. Jones made his name as a star on the terrific basketball teams turned out by the University of Kentucky during the late 1940s. Who knows, maybe instead of calling points of order the congressmen will start blowing whistles and yelling for a basket.

"Lost" President

Does Ike get lost in the White House? Newsmen got the distinct impression one day that, on occasion, the President does.

During a press conference in the office of James C. Hagerty, his news secretary, the President suddenly poked his head in the room unannounced.

Apparently startled at what he saw, Mr. Eisenhower quickly backed out, shutting the door behind him with the mumbled apology, "Oh, I thought it was my secretary."

Hush-Hush In Chicago

The internal Revenue Service and Justice Department are doing a great deal of extremely hush-hush work in the Chicago area. The work is so secret officials not only will not answer questions concerning it, but will not see reporters who call.

A full-scale investigation is said to be underway by the agencies. A report is current to the effect that if anything explodes as a result of the inquiry it will be after the November 6 elections. All the signs are that something big is involved. What it is has not leaked out. The only thing that has occurred publicly is a change of Internal Revenue directors in the Chicago office.

In Reverse

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson put his finger on much of the controversy over the adequacy of the nation's air program when he reminded Congress recently that "no field commander of any service ever considers his forces entirely adequate."

Wilson was testifying before the air investigating subcommittee of Senator Stuart Symington (D), Missouri.

Many in the crowded hearing room recalled a day when Symington was Air Force secretary, any testifying in support of President Truman's air budget.

Under questioning, he, too, then conceded he would like more money for the Air Force than the White House approved. Now that he is asking the questions, it is the generals who are telling Symington they could "use more."

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"I'm hungry. Would you run down and get me a hot dog?"

Grantsville Farmer Shot By Hunter

A 38-year-old man was shot Tuesday on his farm near Grantsville.

Tfc. B. J. Buckel of the Maryland State Police, who investigated, said Lester Bittinger sustained gunshot wounds between the knee and hip bone. He was admitted to Garrett County Memorial Hospital in Oakland where his condition is termed "not serious."

Tfc. Buckel said Bittinger told him he was shot at 9:30 p. .m Tuesday in his wheat field. Bittinger said he saw someone spot-lighting deer in his field, and when he drove his pickup to the field he was shot.

Tfc. Buckel said no arrests have been made, and investigation is being continued.

Rail Reduction Creates Need For Star Route

The reduction of railway mail service, a gradual thing over the years, has caused a number of changes in the routing of mail in and out of the key Cumberland Post Office.

The introduction of the Daylight Speedliner between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh on Sunday will replace the Washingtonian, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad passenger train.

And the three-car Speedliner will not carry mail. Assistant Postmaster Thomas B. Cumiskey said other arrangements had to be made to handle the mail formerly carried by this train.

The elimination of this train service has caused the creation of additional star route by motor vehicle.

The star route from Altoona to Hyndman will be extended to Cumberland, he added.

Another star route now in existence from Cumberland to Altoona will be re-routed through Ellerslie and Hyndman to Bedford, instead of using Route 220.

A third route will be a new one connecting Cumberland and Rockwood, Cumiskey said.

Post Office Department observers pointed out that over the past 20 years more and more mail is being hauled by motor vehicles.

About four years ago, when the Public Service Commission allowed the Western Maryland Railway to drop two of its four trains between Cumberland and Elkins, a star route service by truck making a round trip from Cumberland daily was instituted.

Nationalism Rising In Soviet Satellites

The slow rise of nationalism in the Soviet satellites of Eastern Europe has just begun, but it is difficult to see how the Russians can prevent it from becoming a mighty force. Poles are beginning to remember that they are Poles, Hungarians that they are Hungarians, Germans in East Germany that they are Germans.

Everywhere in Communist countries there is increasing insistence that being Communist doesn't mean they must be ruled by Moscow. Of course, communism is communism, but it is of less immediate menace to the peace of the world if it is split up into segments.

In Poland, Communist leaders were trying to get rid of the Russian officers in their armed forces, to begin with. The Russians maintain several divisions in Poland on the pretext of safeguarding communications with East Germany, and the Poles would like to see these withdrawn.

The pressure for the Russian withdrawal has been coming from the Communist party faction which now appears to have the upper hand.

Signs of nationalism are also clearly visible in Hungary, where the example of Tito's Yugoslavia has been one of the factors in a reorganization of the Communist party. A few years ago Stalin chortled when signs of nationalism appeared in non-Communist countries, but denounced it as criminal Titoism and ruthlessly purged its supporters when it appeared in the Soviet orbit.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Conservatives

Actually, neither the Republican nor the Democratic party is what might be called by any definition a conservative party; nor is either definable with any degree of accuracy, a socialist party. To a European of the present day, this must be very confusing because in nearly every country outside the Communist dictatorships, there is a conservative and a socialist element in the population.

Are we so very different? I have heard many speak of the middle-of-the-road but this is an undefinable term which only adds to one's confusion. If there is no conservative party and no socialist party, what can be the middle? Obviously if there are no ends, there is no middle. The answer must be that in the United States, we no longer have political parties, only mechanisms for electing officials.

Now along comes the States' Rights group which is organizing a new political party that is definitely conservative. This party has nominated T. Coleman Andrews of Virginia for president and Thomas H. Werdel of California for vice president. It will appear on the ballots of, I believe, 14 states.

This party has a clear-cut program which is a conservative one. It stands for States' Rights based upon a rigid interpretation of the 10th Amendment to the Constitution. It stands for tax reform, particularly for the abolition of the graduated income tax which it regards as having been taken from Karl Marx's plan for the destruction of capitalism as specified in the Communist Manifesto. The new party seeks to reverse the "dangerous trend toward socialism" in the United States. It seeks to terminate the "Status of Forces Treaty," by which our troops abroad are subject to foreign courts. It favors the original Bricker Amendment; opposes the Atlantic Union and world government; desires American air supremacy and hopes to end conscription.

This is a positive program which can be accepted or rejected for specific reasons. Naturally, the States' Rights party does not expect to win in 1956 but it would like to get enough electoral votes to throw the election into the House of Representatives. Under such circumstances, the Republican and Democratic parties would negotiate with T. Coleman Andrews for his electoral votes.

What seems to be forgotten by this generation of Americans is that citizens do not vote for candidates for president and vice president. They vote for electors. Constitutionally and theoretically, these electors may choose whomsoever they please. If no one is chosen, that is, if no one has a majority of the College of Electors, the choice of a president goes to the House of Representatives who may choose in accordance with the provisions of the 12th Amendment to the Constitution which does not recognize the existence of political parties.

Thus, what the new party could do, if it got enough electoral votes in a tight election, is either to force the other political parties to negotiate with it for its electoral votes or it could throw the election into the House of Representatives.

The Republican party ran a candidate in 1856, John C. Fremont, with the object of establishing itself as a political party. Fremont was defeated. In 1860, this party ran Abraham Lincoln, who not only won, but who was re-elected in 1864. The Republican party was no less radical in its tone in 1856 than the States' Rights party seems to be today. The leaders of the new party, apart from Andrews and Werdel, are Clarence E. Manion, John U. Barr and General Bonner Fellers. Among its national committee are such well-known personalities as Spruille Braden, formerly ambassador to the Argentine, Charles Edison, formerly governor of New Jersey and secretary of the navy, and General George E. Stratemeyer, to select a few names. As I look at the names, there are Republicans, Democrats and no party people. Many are of the organization called "For America."

It is an interesting beginning, particularly in view of the fact that the parties on the left are dying. It is possible to foresee that if Adlai Stevenson is defeated, the Democratic party may move further to the left, accumulating the remainders of the Communist, Socialist, and Socialist Labor parties, the ADA Fabian Socialists, the Liberal party in New York State, thus becoming a characteristically social-democratic party. The 1960 election could, under such circumstances, become very much more interesting than 1956 and might even be crucial in American history.

'You Think He's Stopped Growing, Nikolai?'

Congressman Powell's Secretary Released From Federal Prison

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Part of the reported deal between the Eisenhower administration and Negro Congressman Adam Clayton Powell of Harlem, Democrat, who has just declared for Ike, is now leaking out.

Part of the deal was the release of Powell's secretary, Hattie Dodson, from a federal penitentiary. The records of Alderson, W. Va., Women's Federal Reformatory show that she was released on October 17, one day before Congressman Powell gave his New York press conference detailing the reasons for his political switch.

Mrs. Dodson was convicted of income tax evasion after paying salary kickbacks to Powell. In the case of three other congressmen exposed by this column for taking salary kickbacks, it was they who were convicted, not their secretaries.

In this case, however, Mrs. Dodson refused to testify against Congressman Powell. Time after time she was asked about Powell's role in taking kickbacks. But over and over again she refused to implicate Powell. Over and over she claimed the kickbacks were her own fault.

Since a congressman's staff is paid out of federal funds, by all the taxpayers, he is not permitted to take any part of it back for himself.

Mrs. Dodson was sentenced to jail for seven months on July 16.

"No Comment"

When Justice Department officials were queried as to how she got out on October 17, a ripple of consternation coupled with a tide of "no comment" surged through the department.

James Bennett, director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons and a career man who has held the position under both Democrats and Republicans, referred inquiries to the Federal Parole Board. Thomas O. Grover, executive officer of the Parole Board, also withheld comment.

Scovel Richardson, chairman of the Parole Board, said he could not comment, that all press inquiries must come from the press relations office of the Justice Department.

Mr. Richardson, a Negro Republican from St. Louis, has been on the verge of appointment as a U. S. district judge in St. Louis, in which case he would be the first Negro district court judge in history. Although Justice Department officials had gone so far as to query Missouri senators as to whether there would be any objection to Richardson's appointment and seemed all set to name him, his appointment has not yet been made.

When Mr. Richardson was asked about this, and about the possibility that the judgeship was being dangled over his head as chairman of the parole board in order to induce Mrs. Dodson's early parole, he belittled this and referred all matters to the Justice Department press officer.

The Justice Department press office stated that Mrs. Dodson had become eligible for parole on September 25, had been given a hearing that same day, and had been granted parole effective October 17. Beyond this, the Justice Department would make no comment.

NOTE — Attorney General Brownell has not held a press conference since October 1955, one year ago; so it was impossible to question him regarding the Dodson quick parole. Repeated requests have been made by this column and other newsmen, without result, to get Brownell to hold a press conference. Other chiefs of the Justice Department held press conferences about once a week or upon request in previous administrations.

Foreign Aid May Blow Up

A very hush-hush, vitally important report on foreign aid is due to be submitted to the National Security Council today. It is already the topic of unhappy backstage debate and will cause even more unhappiness if such Republican leaders as Senators Knowland of California and Bridges of New Hampshire demand its publication.

The secret report, prepared by Herbert Prochnow, deputy undersecretary of state for economic affairs, says more critical things about the Republican administration of foreign aid than the Democrats ever said about it.

Prochnow charges that money and materials have been "wasted, or misdirected or misguided" in 10 key countries. Some of these countries, including Turkey, are on the verge of bankruptcy, and our inefficient policies haven't helped matters. The report describes the situation as "extremely alarming."

Though many Republicans criticized foreign aid under the Democrats, President Eisenhower not only has continued it, but this year asked Congress to increase it. This caused vigorous debate in Congress, with the opposition coming from both political parties.

Prochnow, a former Chicago banking adviser and efficiency expert, was brought into the State Department one year ago to handle economic affairs and advise Dulles on foreign aid. For some months he has been chairman of the so-called "Prochnow Committee" on which sit representatives of the State, Defense and Treasury Departments, plus the International Cooperation Association. The report was supposed to have been published some weeks ago, but was so full of dynamite that it was delayed by top administration leaders. It will not be published now, and its submittal may be even further delayed.

Prochnow Quits

Prochnow, meanwhile, has tendered his resignation. The report is so hot and the pressure on him to suppress it so great that he decided to go back to Chicago. As a good Republican, however, he dated his resignation November 15 so no trouble would break before the election.

Some of the highlights of the dynamite-laden report:

1. A Defense Department representative verbally promised Pakistan aid equivalent to $137,000,000. Because of delays and inflation, fulfillment of that aid finally cost $350,000,000. Part of the delay resulted from misunderstanding as to what the Defense Department official had promised Pakistan. In order to keep Pakistan happy, their version of the promise was finally accepted.

2. Harold Stassen, former head of International Cooperation, also made a verbal commitment to Turkey which will cost the American taxpayer between $500,000,000 and one billion dollars over a five-year period.

Stassen claimed that his verbal commitment was conditional on certain return commitments by Turkey. But the Turks denied that any strings were attached. In order to save Stassen's face and appease Turkey, the administration was compelled to agree with Turkey.

The report will be stamped "top secret."

Pittsburgh District Good Organization Example

By Joseph Alsop

PITTSBURGH, Pa.

If you want to know what the Democrats mean when they claim they are better organized than the Republicans, this reporter would recommend a trip to the 11th District of Pittsburgh's old Eighth Ward.

I have just spent a long day laboriously polling this district's pleasant, tree-lined blocks of old-fashioned, unpretentious but shabby houses. The 11th's mixed population of working people, white collar families and small businessmen looks, on the surface, like giving Dwight D. Eisenhower the same majority that they gave him in 1952.

But after a good part of another day given to investigating what makes the 11th District tick, I am not so sure my poll results accurately forecast the outcome. The truth is that this little corner of Pittsburgh, which would be called a precinct in most parts of the country, is the private battleground of local political titans; and they do not do battle on equal terms.

Knows District Intimately

Titan number one is Alderman John Walters, the Democratic district chairman and leader of the whole Eight Ward, who rules his bailiwick from a small, shabby, comfortable old house at 118 South Pacific Avenue. In his later middle age, John Walters is a shrewd and charming man, badly crippled but with energy undiminished by his handicap, and with that curious expression of serenity that people acquire who suffer a severe handicap without giving way to peevishness or self-pity. He knows his district intimately.

"There's Democrats there—lots of Democrats here on South Winebiddle—so there are, thank the Lord," he will tell you. Or again on Coral Street, "There's Republicans in those frame houses, so there are."

He has a pleasant mannerism of emphasizing his statements by a repetition introduced by the word "so"; and he is full of confidence. "We're going to carry the district this time, so we are," he says. "I'm sure of it, so I am."

The opposing titan, and an even more determined fighter than John Walters, is the Republican district committeewomen, Mrs. Mary Leonard, a handsome, sharp-eyed lady, the wife of a landscape gardener, who inhabits a shiny, handsome house at 241 South Atlantic Avenue. Mrs. Leonard takes her politics seriously and is given to suspecting dark Democratic plots and devious misdeeds. Nonetheless, Mrs. Leonard is just as confident as John Walters that her side will carry the district.

26 Democratic Officeholders

"Our people love Ike," she says. "We won last time. We should win this time despite all the tricks those Democrats can play."

The trouble is, however, that in terms of political organization, Mrs. Leonard is almost in the situation of a lone female fighting off a Spartan phalanx. The district has its full official complement of Republican committee members—four in all—but only Mrs. Leonard has served for a long time and really knows the district and its people. The former Republican district chairman, William Betters, actually defected to the Democrats when Gov. George M. Leader captured the Pennsylvaina state house in 1954.

When the Republicans still held the state house and some Allegheny County offices, Mrs. Leonard had a few Republicans on the public payroll to help her out in the 11th District. Now she has none, whereas in this one district there is an unusually high concentration of 26 Democratic office-holders. From the respected Judge John Kennedy, with his wife and four children at 229 South Atlantic, down to the lowliest fireman, they and their families get out and vote for the Democratic ticket. And at least eight of them also help John Walters to round up other Democratic voters.

Furthermore, the old people's home of the Little Sisters of the Poor, standing in its wide lawns on South Aiken Avenue, has no less than 70 inmates; and John Walters' greatest triumph has been to persuade most of its inmates to go to the polls. Mrs. Leonard mutters darkly about senility and unorthodox inducements, but she has never been able to halt the procession of voting crones and balloting gaffers. In a district that does not cast many more than 700 ballots, a block vote like this of close to 70 persons is a most important factor.

Better Organization

So there you have the equation. Other things being equal, so far as I could learn by polling, Eisenhower ought to carry the 11th District about as he carried it in 1952. But other things are not equal. The Republican organization amounts to the lonely embattled Mrs. Leonard. The Democratic organization of John Walters is very powerful indeed.

Perhaps the superiority of organization was what Pittsburgh's great Democratic chieftain, Mayor David Lawrence, was thinking about, when he told this reporter that this year the Democrats would gain 40,000 votes in Allegheny County, and would therefore carry Pennsylvania. At any rate, the 11th District is a good test of the value of political organization. And the test is immensely significant, because of the great number of states where the Republican organization is disheveled and the Democrats are strongly organized right down to the grass roots.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Right now the candidates must feel like the man lost in the Sahara without his niblick.

They still have a lot of ground to cover. And it's too late for grass and too early for hay.

This is about the time when the candidates shake hands like they were asking the name of your nearest living relative.

They're putting a slight twist on the wrist.

There are only 11 days until big Tuesday in November.

Both candidates are as careful as an elephant on a rope bridge. They are parting their scalps exactly in the middle. They are hiding their pocket lighters before somebody accuses them of lousing up the poor little match girl's Merry Christmas.

Don't worry about the national debt. We haven't got a financial problem we cannot solve by putting on another printer in the Bureau of Engraving.

The government of the people, for the people and why the people will flourish like the Green Bay Tree. And don't forget in the Truman Administration the FBI ran up a big reserve in marked money.

Administrations overlap like a bloodhound's jowls. Big thing to remember in politics is there are two thumbprints in every handshake.

We like to see arguments, charges and denials in our free and equal stampedes. A house divided against itself collects twice as much rent.

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

AMSTERDAM — Breezed over here smoothly and speedily on a newly built highway. Came in a taxicab. About 35 miles. Price about $10. We are domiciled in the Hotel Amstel. Our room overlooks the Amstel River, a busy waterway that divides the city. There is considerable river and street traffic, but the hotel has a remarkable system of soundproofing. The atmosphere is quiet and peaceful day and night.

SERVICE

The manner in which the Amstel Hotel is conducted is a masterpiece of service. Nevertheless you can pick up the hotel bill and restaurant checks in relaxed fashion. Come to about one-third of that for similar places in the United States. Bill Corum would like the Amstel. Bill, as you probably know, was the first to say: "I don't want to be a millionaire, I just want to live like one."

HONESTY

The traveller in Holland gets better than an even break. The Dutch are outstandingly honest. I left an umbrella in a taxicab in The Hague. The driver found it and on his day off made a 70-mile round trip by train to Amsterdam to return it. When a waiter hands you a check in Amsterdam, he says: "Service charge included." That means you don't have to give him a tip. This is unique in my European travel experience.

OLD TIMERS

Firms that have been in business 200 or 300 years are common in Amsterdam. In fact, a firm that has only been in business for 100 years is considered a Johnny-come-lately. One popular bar here, the Rhenian Anise Barrel, has been active continuously for 272 years! Its customers have worn out a number of doorsteps.

TRAFFIC

Holland is the most densely populated country in Europe. That is impressed on you particularly in Amsterdam. Especially during the rush hours. I am a veteran of the Brooklyn Bridge and subway rush hours but I have never seen such a general jam as there is at 5 p. m. in Amsterdam. Buses, trolley cars, automobiles, bicycles and pedestrians. Everything is packed. At a traffic stop, as many as 400 cyclists will halt. The population of Amsterdam is about 900,000. There are 450,000 owners of bicycles in the city.

SIDELIGHTS

Henry Ford Sr. once seriously suggested that Amsterdam fill up its canals and make automobile thoroughfares of them. . . Practically every cocktail bar in Amsterdam features a piano player. The song most played by these pianists is the one titled "Poor People of Paris". . Right now the favorite modern American author in Amsterdam is Erle Stanley Gardner. . . Television has hardly come around the corner in Holland. There is only one broadcasting station in the country. Population is 10,500,000, but only 80,000 have television sets.

RISKY RIDE

Today we were riding in a taxi along a narrow thoroughfare by the side of a canal. There was no guard rail on the canal. It was raining. The street was slippery. I expressed concern about the possibility of the car skidding into the canal. I found out later that quite a few cars actually do skid into the canals. In fact, the Amsterdam Fire Department has a special truck which is used to fish automobiles out of the canals.

Delusions About Skin Encountered Occasionally

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Yesterday we wrote about a mother and daughter who were certain their skin was infested with parasites. They shared the same delusion and each scratched and picked at the other to obtain relief from an imaginary infestation.

Everyone is familiar with the effects on the skin of the mind and emotions. A nervous rash (neurodermatitis) is an example but, better known, are changes such as blushing, sweating, and goose flesh. We all have had the urge to scratch at the mere mention of the word lice or the sight of a filthy bum. Some individuals suffer from an uncontrollable impulse to scratch, pinch, bruise, or excavate the skin. This state of affairs has a technical name — dermatothiasia.

Delusions and hallucinations about the skin are encountered occasionally. These beliefs or sensations are contrary to demonstrable facts. A typical case was cited recently by Dr. John McAndrews and his colleagues at Charity Hospital, New Orleans.

A professional man was hospitalized following a prolonged severe episode of drinking. Instead of the usual pink elephants, he saw green worms crawling up his legs. The man was so thoroughly convinced by this hallucination, he decided to catch a few of the worms and send them to the laboratory for identification.

A specimen bottle was obtained and he caught and placed several imaginary parasites in the container with a note directing the technicians what to look for. In this instance, the patient was seeing things that others could not.

Phobias about the skin also exist. Some persons have an abnormal fear of being contaminated by bacteria and are afraid to touch things with their bare hands. The victims realize their fears are not rational but can do nothing about the situation.

We are well acquainted with individuals who cannot refrain from squeezing blackheads or other blemishes. Some are forced to behave in this way through an obcessive compulsive reaction. The lesion is there and must be eliminated. These persons are high-strung and of higher than average intelligence. After all, some of our smartest people do the funniest things.

OFF THE BEAM

J. M. writes: Is arthritis being treated by radar?

REPLY

This sounds quack-quack to me, unless you mean ultrasonic therapy. These waves differ from those used in radar.

MISPLACED CELLS

Mrs. F. writes: A friend had removed from the ovary a cyst that she says contained hair and teeth. Did you ever hear of such a thing?

REPLY

Yes. Dermoid systs are lined with the same type of tissues from which skin, hair, nails, and teeth originate. As the cyst grows these cells are not aware that they are displaced and proceed to develop into structures as nature intended originally.

INFLAMED LUNGS

C. T. writes: Is pneumonitis pneumonia?

REPLY

Both disorders represent inflammation of the lungs and for practical purposes may be considered somewhat the same. In pneumonitis, infection occurs in the lungs tissue between the air sacs whereas in pneumonia, the inner lining of the air sacs is involved.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

Foxy Old Bird: Farmer Klopfer bought a perky young rooster to add vigor to his flock. The recruit started out being courteous to the old cock, but the veteran wasn't having any of his soft ways. "Divide the hens 50-50?" it snorted. "I should say not!"

Finally, the old bird clucked: "See that tree across the field? I'll race you to it, and the winner takes the entire flock. I ask only that you allow me a 10-yard handicap."

"Sure!" crowed the newcomer, confident that youth would have to be served.

The race started and the young cock let its rival take the lead, then lit after it, but just as he was about to catch up, Farmer Klopfer upped with his shotgun and blasted the chaser.

"Dunno why it is," the farmer mused as he reloaded the gun, "but that's the fourth young rooster with mighty peculiar habits to disturb my flock this month!"

Servicemen In Auto Crash

Two of a group of four young Marines who were en route home on leave were admitted yesterday to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, with injuries suffered in an automobile accident on U. S. Route 50.

Admitted were Harold Landman, 21, Uniontown, Pa., and John Henderson, 19, of Clarksburg, W. Va. Attaches said the former was admitted for observation after complaining of pain in the back, while Henderson suffered lacerations of the forehead and left hand, and also had his left little finger and first joint of his left ring finger torn off in the accident.

Trooper Robert Noechel of the Keyser detachment of West Virginia State Police, who is investigating, said the quartet was traveling in a convertible driven by Oscar Olin Neel, 19, of Smithtown, W. Va. Neel, who escaped injury along with the other unidentified Marine, told Trooper Noechel that he must have fallen asleep while driving. The mishap occurred at approximately 3 a.m. yesterday.

The vehicle, the trooper said, struck the bridge across Abrams Creek, turned sideways and slipped along the bridge, tearing off the entire right side of the vehicle. The highway was wet at the time since a light rain had fallen. No charges were preferred pending a complete investigation.

Nothing is more attractive than a girl who exhibits enthusiasm.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The Importance Of Pals

Some girls are just naturally popular. With no effort, they live in the midst of adoring friends and dates. And there is no time in an individual's life in which friends count more than during the growing- up period.

There is nothing more pathetic than the girl who hasn't acquired the ability to make friends. Some girls take the easy way and never come out of their shell.

But any girl with enough wit to wield a lipstick can soon learn how to be more interesting—and have fun doing it. She can't let herself get stuck in a rut. She sits down and plans her campaign.

First, you have to want to improve yourself. Your will power is yours alone to command. You must work at making yourself more interesting. Nothing makes one so exciting as being excited about something. Enthusiasm makes the eyes glisten more brightly than any amount of make-up, so learn to express your enthusiasms.

Start out the simple way — collect something, anything, that interests you: jazz records, sea shells, butterflies or music boxes. Take candid pictures of your friends. You'll probably find many that will have fun adding to your collection and soon everyone will enjoy your enthusiasm.

Make a habit of always serving your friends something really good when they drop in. You'll find that they'll return often. Learn to bake good brownies, crisp cookies and pile whipped cream on hot chocolate on special occasions. There isn't a boy alive who won't come back for another evening of hospitality. Before long you'll find yourself popular, and everyone will be eager for invitations to your house.

Tomorrow — Party pitch.

RFD Service Began 60 Years Ago; First Routes Were In Nearby West Virginia

The Post Office Department is observing the 60th anniversary of rural delivery service in America, the initial routes being in nearby West Virginia.

It was on October 1, 1896, that experimental rural delivery service began with three routes at Charles Town, W. Va., and two routes at Halltown and Uvilla near Charles Town.

Today the rural delivery service serves more Americans than ever before in history. The original sites for the experimental routes were picked by Postmaster General William L. Wilson, a native of West Virginia.

Old records show that in the first week the three Charles Town routes provided for surprised farmers delivery of 214 letters, 290 papers, 33 postal cards and two packages.

Previously, they would not have received this mail until they went into town to pick it up, often a matter of weeks or even months.

That was a far cry from today's mail load handled by rural delivery carriers. For example, in a recent 12-month period, nearly eight billion pieces of mail were handled for rural patrons.

Today there are 31,888 routes serving 34,930,000 mail patrons over more than one and a half million miles of routes that extend into virtually all the counties of the United States, as well as into territories and posessions of the United States.

One of the five original "RFD" carriers, Melvin Strider of Charles Town, is still living and is a prominent citizen active in banking and business in that city.

Market Continues Slide; Industrials Drop Sharply

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (AP)—Motors, steels, and coppers were under some selling pressure today as the stock market staged another slow decline.

On average—and by a narrow margin—it was the steepest setback since Oct. 1 when the market almost reached its lows for the year but today's performance was pretty much in the vein of recent similar sessions.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped $1 to $178.30 with the industrials down $1.60, the rails down 80 cents and the utilities down 10 cents.

On the basis of the average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange fell an estimated $1,200,000,000.

Major factors in today's decline, according to brokers, were the sharp drop in Ford earnings, the continued fall in copper scrap prices domestically and in consumer copper prices abroad, and the persistent wait-and-see attitude on the part of big investors, so far as the presidential election is concerned. Wall Street observers saw no connection between today's market behavior and news of the rebellion in Hungary.

Volume totaled 1,640,000 shares compared with 1,390,000 yesterday, still far below an average trading day this year.

The day's most active stock was Standard Oil (NJ) unchanged at 54 on 24,700 shares. Second was U.S. Steel, off ⅝ at 67⅞ on 23,000 shares. Third was American Telephone, off 1⅜ at 167¼.

N. Y. Eggs And Butter

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (AP)—(USDA): Eggs generally steady to firm today. Receipts 16,306.

Butter steady. Receipts 453,000. Prices unchanged.

Position Of Treasury

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—The cash position of the Treasury Oct 19:

On The Line

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (INS)—If 15 two-year old animals show up at the starting line Saturday at Garden State horse yard, for a race ingeniously called "The Garden State," the ensuing contest at one mile and a sixteenth will be worth a numbing $311,210.

It is, of course, the richest race in the world. Sportswriters assembled by track agent Everett Clay at Leone's restaurant the other day, to hear from two people who had paid a $10,000 supplementary entry fee just to get their nags in the gallop, eyed the various pots at stake: The winner to get $176,665, the runner-up $62,242, the show horse $41,561 and the so-called "out of the money" or fourth horse $16,560.

"I think I'll enter it myself," a stout and venal writer said after three pre-luncheon martinis. Over the next two hours he ate whatever Gene Leone spread before him. It was one of Gene's lighter lunches: lobster, baked oysters, baloney, shrimp, m 'on and prosciutto, cheese and fruit, for appetizers, then, on option, minestrone, fettuccini, steak, whole pheasants, prescribed vegetables, salad, ice cream and expresso. The wine has a lustrous rubicon ruby from 1953.

"Maybe next year," the now stouter writer gasped as afternoon waned and eye glazed. He left, carrying more weight than Exterminator lifted and ran with in the Independence and the Saratoga Handicaps in 1922.

All the good stables have sent their best youngsters to "the Garden State," an indication perhaps that these honored owners are not necessarily in the sport for sport alone. The silks of George Widener, Peter A. B. Widener, Mrs. Gene Markey of Calumet, Liz Whitney of Llangollen Farm, Rex Ellsworth of Swaps, and the rich folk of the Wheatley barn have been attracted to this commerce. So have some of the poorer stables, if there is such a thing as a poor racing stable.

Trainer Milt Rieser, one of those whose people have gotten up a $10,000 grunt to become eligible for one of the big pots of gold at the end of Saturday's run, was at the luncheon at Leone's. He trains a "poor stable" colt named Federal Hill, named for the rise of ground which holds the pleasant house which in 1853 inspired a man named Stephen Collins Foster, who lived in such places as Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and New York, to write a little number called "My Old Kentucky Home."

Mr. Rieser is no man to let the queen's tongue get in the way of his enthusiasm for his colt, who has come to fame after a lowly beginning which saw him run uncoveted in a $7,000 claiming race.

"That horse can't do nothing but run," ejaculated Mr. Rieser, grown old, plump and bald in The Game. "You ask me does he tend to stop? That horse don't show none no time he runs. Does he breathe hard? That horse won't blow a match out after a race. I tell you, you better get some tickets on him."

If Mr. Rieser had his way, Federal Hill should go off at 1-to-29. He won't. Bold Ruler, from Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley Stable, and trained by the fabled Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, will be favored, followed perhaps by Calumet's Barbizon, a $10,000 supplementary entry. Bold Ruler, sired by Nashrullah, Nashua's pop, has run eight times, finished seven and second the other time. He's the Big Horse coming up. Incidentally, Eddie Arcaro was to have ridden him Saturday but, sentimentally, went to Latonia to gallop Nashua around the track for the last time. Later in the day he was judged to have been guilty of rungh riding on another horse and was set down for 10 days. This deprives Eddie of his fine chance of picking up $17,666.50 by gunning Bold Ruler to victory.

But for Eddie, that's like losing two-bits down a subway vent.

Prayers Answered

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 24 (AP)—This gay city has outgrown its water supply. Water is rationed. People on some streets get water only two hours a week.

But Gomez Carneiro, a quiet tree-lined street near Rio's famous beach, seemed forgotten. It had no water for a week.

At the urging of a resident, the street decided to pray for water at 10 o'clock. At 10 o'clock the water came on. It's still on.

Brandy Guzzler Dies

TORONTO, Oct. 24 (AP) — Police said Joseph Systel, 32, died of alcohol poisoning after trying on a bet to drink a 26-ounce bottle of brandy without stopping. His death was not discovered for hours. Two companions said they noticed an odd color but thought Systel only had passed out.

Airport Receptionists

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (AP)—Five young women have been assigned to Idlewild Airport to aid immigrants and U.S. citizens returning from Europe. The receptionists were selected by the Immigration and Naturalization Service for their ability to "meet and deal" with unusual situations.

Medical Care In Air Force Is Broadened

Dependents of all Air Force personnel will receive much broader medical care under the new Miliary Medical Care Act which was signed into law last month by President Eisenhower.

T/Sgt. Harold C. Waldrop, local recruiter, said the big feature of the new bill provides civilian hospitalization and doctor's care for dependents if military facilities are not available.

The new medical program which goes into effect on December 8 gives the services permanent authority to provide care in any military hospital for dependents of those who died while on active duty, to dependents of active duty personnel including dependent parents and certain retired military personnel and their dependents.

Medical care authorized eligible dependents under the new bill includes diagnosis, treatment of acute medical and surgical conditions, treatment of contagious diseases, immunization, and maternity and infant care subject to availability of facilities at the military hospitals.

Information on additional benefits and opportunities available to young men entering the Air Force is available at the local recruiting office, Room 314, Post Office Building.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Communion Breakfast Planned By Holy Name

Father Kilian Krings, OFM Cap., guardian of SS Peter and Paul Monastery, will be the guest speaker Sunday morning at the Communion Breakfast of the Western Maryland Section of the Holy Name Society.

James Coyle, president of the Section, said the breakfast will be held in the social hall of St. Mary's Church following the 9 a. m. Mass., which will be celebrated by Rev. Robert F. Hopkins, assistant pastor of that parish.

Father Krings, who is a native of Ford City, Pa., attended St. Fidelis Seminary, Herman, Pa., for six years and spent one year as a novice at the local monastery.

He studied philosophy for two years at Victoria, Kans., and studied theology for four years at Capuchin College, Washington, D. C.

For six years, Father Krings was a missionary in Puerto Rico. During the Mass the Casey Chorus will sing.

Area Orchard Owner Attacks R. H. Mollohan

Henry W. Miller Jr., of Paw Paw, one of West Virginia's most prominent leaders in agriculture, yesterday charged that Robert H. Mollohan, Democrat nominee for governor, voted against the interests of W. Va. farmers while a member of Congress.

Miller, an orchardist, who is a past president of the West Virginia Congress of Agriculture and an official of the American Farm Bureau, in an open letter to Mollohan, asked him if he is linked with "the present statehouse machine."

Miller asked Mollohan to answer publicly a number of questions.

"During the past session of Congress, "Miller wrote, "you and all other West Virginia Congressmen, except Mr. Harley O. Staggers, consistently voted against flexible support on basic agricultural products with total disregard of appeals of the Farm Bureau and other organizations representing and speaking for the farmers of our state.

"Your position in this matter is hard to understand because more than 90 per cent of the farm income in West Virginia comes from livestock and poultry, and only about four per cent from the six supported commodities such as cotton and tobacco.

"Your political advertisements state that you have always supported agriculture. Perhaps you would like to tell us why you persistently voted against the farmers of our state on this very important issue.

"If elected Governor of West Virginia, will you be any more inclined to listen to the problems and the recommendations of our farm organizations than you were during your term in Congress?"

It takes a GIANT to build a business...

a $575,000,000 business!

"Newspaper advertising has built our business." So spoke H. V. McNamara, president of the National Tea Company, America's fifth largest food chain. In a recent address to the members of the Illinois Daily Newspaper Markets, Mr. McNamara made it clear that, "newspaper advertising has been the greatest contributing factor in our sales increase... from $99,000,000 in 1944 to $575,000,000 in 1955."

Newspapers Get Results

"Newspaper advertising, both national and local, brings results, the kind of results you can measure on the cash register, or in stock movement, actual sales results, not next week, not next year, but as soon as the newspaper hits the streets. That's real ACTION ADVERTISING. That's the kind of impact that gets results – and that's the kind of advertising in which we like to invest our money."

Two-Thirds Or More For "Action" Advertising

Since 1944 the National Tea Company has spent over $30,000,000 for advertising and sales promotion...and at least 66⅔ per cent of these advertising dollars has been invested in newspaper space. In Mr. McNamara's own words:

"Until someone invents another medium that will do a better job of delivery of our advertising wrapped up in a fast reading package of news, pictures, and interesting, educational features, that will get deeper and more dominant home penetration than the daily newspaper, I will continue to recommend... that we earmark at least two-thirds of all our advertising dollars for newspapers. Newspaper advertising is ACTION ADVERTISING that drives home the impact to get immediate results."

Nothing Sells Like Newspapers

Advertisers in every field share Mr. McNamara's views. They know that building sales in today's competitive market is a job for a giant... a job for newspapers. Only newspapers are big enough to reach into the smallest hamlet or to blanket the biggest city. That's why advertisers – big and small, national and local – are investing in newspapers at a record pace – $3,087,800,000 last year, more than was spent in radio, TV, magazines and outdoor combined. Put the giant to work building sales for you.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers.

Television And Radio

by John Crosby

Indefatigably Whimsical

The determined effort to make a pixie out of Ray Bolger continues energetically in his new show "Washington Square" (NBC-TV 4 p. m. EDT Sundays every other week). On this show, Bolger dances into view down a street in a wildly picturesque Greenwich Village setting and winds up leaning on a postbox where he tells us all about the Village.

It sounds quite a lot like Never Never Land. Artists, writers, polygot foods, parks, quaint houses. Then a whole lot of denizens of the Village gather round and sing a song to the effect that no one gives a sou about money and proper housing conditions so long as they have plenty of time for dancing and romancing. It's a big production number.

Later Mr. Bolger does a little romancing of his own with Elaine Stritch, who runs a Greenwich Village nightclub. At various other times, we meet Mama Rosa who sings a bit of opera, the Three Flames, who sing "Up A Lazy River" and grin much too much, Arnold Stang, disguised as a turtle who quotes the Song of Solomon and begs Bolger to do his old soft shoe routine; Bert Lahr, who does his old nearsighted doctor routine, and a bunch of children who do a sort of prim rock 'n' roll number with Bolger.

The proceedings fairly ooze with sentiment about show business in the old days and about Greenwich Village to the point where it gets just a little embarrasing. Bolger's "The Old Soft Shoe" is still a great song and dance number and I enjoyed every second of it. But Lahr's nearsighted doctor has been on television just once or twice too often. It ought to be retired for a good long rest. I have a terrible premonition that there is going to be a great deal of this disinterring old vaudeville and burlesque routines for the edification of contemporary television audiences who will be tacitly warned that they had better take them to their hearts or they will be considered Philistines. I can be as sentimental about show business as the next man but not to the extent of thinking something is funny when it isn't.

Bolger has great charm and many talents but he does have terrible luck on his TV assignments. Somehow the writers—and just possibly Mr. Bolger is a bit to blame, too—get afflicted with whimsy whenever a new Bolger TV show comes around. Essentially, this is just a variety show; the Village setting is one of those things that must have sounded awfully good on paper but which in practice just seems to get in the way.

Arnold Stang is funnier without that turtle disguise (which, incidentally looks a lot like him) and Elaine Stritch would be better off just belting a song without being bothered with wisps of plot dialogue. And Bolger is a performer who ought to perform, not narrate. Even if all these little complaints were taken care of, I'm not at all sure four o'clock of a Sunday afternoon is the prime time for all this.

The figures for 1956 are 4265 registered Democrats compared with 4093 in 1954. Republican registration figures showed a loss of 180 for the same period with 1728 registered Republicans in 1954 compared with 1548 this year. The total registration in the county declined by 47 with this year's figure at 5840 compared with 5887 in 1956.

KEYSER — More than usual interest is being shown by Mineral County voters this year in absentee balloting in the coming natoinal election, according to James A. Dixon, clerk of Mineral County Circuit Court. Up to yesterday afternoon, 177 absentee ballots have been requested by voters of the county. The final date for requesting absentee ballots has been set by the election code this year Saturday.

Voters who expect to be absent from the state on election day may appear in person at the Circuit Court clerk's office and make a request and vote from Saturday until November 2, inclusive. After November 2, voters will not be able to obtain a ballot until election day at the polls.

Dixon said, in answering a request for information to clarify the voting situation, that on last Friday the ballot commissioners of Mineral County audited the ballots which had been received by the clerk for absentee voters. Absentee ballots printed for the general election November 6 were as follows: 100 for New Creek District; 100 for Frankfort District; 50 for Elk District; 50 for Cabin Run District; 50 for Piedmont District, and 50 for Welton District.

The ballot commissioners checked and made their certificate of the ballots, giving this statement:

"We, the ballot commissioners of Mineral County, West Virginia, certify that we have examined the books and counted ballots that were furnished to the clerk of this county and find that they are in order and accounted for. Signed James A. Dison, chairman; Coyd Yost, Democrat, and C. R. Ludwick, Republican."

Machen Kayoes Holman In 7th

Young Heavy Gains 18th Straight Win

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 24 (AP)—Young Eddie Machen knocked out Johnny Holman of Chicago after 38 seconds in the seventh round of a nationally televised heavyweight boxing match here tonight. The knockout came suddenly after a dull six rounds of jabbing and dancing.

Machen, 24-year-old Redding, Calif., puncher, weighed 194½ to Holman's 199¾.

It was Machen's 18th victory without a defeat and his 14th knockout.

Machen cut loose with a surprise furious assault as the seventh opened. He started Holman on the way down with a stiff right hand, followed by a combination left and right which dumped the towering battler in Holman's corner.

Holman sat dazed as the count started, then grasped a rope and rose to his knees as referee Eddie Volk tolled the count of 10.

The speedy Machen, seventh-ranked heavyweight before tonight, had the 29-year-old Holman puzzled from the start. Machen repeatedly scored with left jabs and easily dodged Holman's lunging rights. Holman is ranked No. 8.

Promoter Tommy Moyer said he would try to match Machen with Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, third-ranking heavyweight nationally.

Potomac State Hosts Concord On Saturday

Catamounts Strive For Sixth Victory

KEYSER, W. Va., Oct. 24 — Potomac State's Catamounts will strive for their sixth victory of the campaign Saturday when they host the Concord Mountain Lions at Stayman Field at 2 p. m.

The high-scoring Cats, one of the top teams in the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, have been hampered by injuries in the past few games, but hope to avenge a 7-6 defeat at the hands of Concord last year.

Only a 26-20 loss to Shepherd College's Rams mars Coach Dana "Horse" Lough's team's record this season. Concord on the other hand has lost five straight conference tilts.

Statistics released by the WVIAC show Potomac State trailing only undefeated Fairmont State with a 6-0 mark and West Liberty Teachers, 3-0 in the conference. The Catamounts have a 4-1 league record.

In the yards gained rushing department Potomac's 263.7 yards per game trails only Bluefield State's average of 269.2. In the passing ledger Potomac has an 85.4 yards per game average. Bethany's 152.6 and Salem's 102.2 lead the Catamounts.

However in total offense the Catamounts' average of 349 per game remains top in the conference.

Coach Lough remarked this week that he was surprised at the way the team has been able to score with the series of injuries that have kept several key players on the sidelines, but added that a strong bench has helped the Catamounts.

In addition to the Concord game Saturday Potomac State has conference tilts with West Virginia Wesleyan and Fairmont on its agenda.

Mrs. Bibby Wins, Advances To Semi-Finals In Tourney

Mesdames Glick, Allen, Barry Take Mid Atlantic Matches

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—One-sided matches marked the quarter finals of the Middle Atlantic Women's Golf Championship at Columbia Country Club today.

Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore and Mrs. John Barry of the host club both won. They will meet tomorrow in the feature semi-finals.

Mrs. A. H. Allen, the Virginia state champion from Army-Navy, and Mrs. William Bibby, a short-game expert from Cumberland, Md., are the other survivors. They also will be opponents tomorrow.

Mrs. Glick, winner of the tournament in 1947-52-54, won 5 and 4 over Mrs. Frank Cush of Argyle Country Club. The latter was an upset victor over Mrs. Glick in the Maryland Women's Championship last year.

Mrs. Barry, Maryland and District of Columbia champion, breezed to a 6 and 5 triumph over Mrs. Paul Streit of Chevy Chase.

Mrs. Allen won 8 and 6 over Mrs. John Kaigler, a clubmate.

Mrs. Bibby scored a mild upset when she defeated Mrs. Charles Egenroad, club champion at Washington Golf and Country Club, 3 and 2. Mrs. Bibby, who barely qualified for the championship flight on Monday, finally mastered the front 9 as she played it in 40 and built a lead she held onto.

Leo Durocher, Greenberg To Confer Monday

Former Interested In Managing Indians

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (AP) — Leo Durocher will meet with Cleveland General Manager Hank Greenberg next Monday to discuss the possibility of his managing the Indians next year.

Both Greenberg, here on business, and Durocher, now a television executive in Hollywood, disclosed they have had a couple of preliminary discussions, via long distance telephone, but added that no definite proposition had been made.

The Indians currently are without a manager following the resignation of Al Lopez at the close of the 1956 season. Durocher has been out of baseball since he resigned as manager of the New York Giants at the end of the 1955 season.

"Durocher told me he was interested in returning to baseball," said Greenberg. "Since I certainly want to get the best man available and since I regard Leo as one of the best managers in the business, naturally I want to talk to him. We agreed to get together in Hollywood next Monday."

"I told Greenberg I had a good job here with a wonderful organization and I was never happier. But if someone in baseball made me a proposition I felt I couldn't afford to turn down, I'd be foolish not to consider it. We then made an appointment here for either tomorrow (Thursday) or Monday."

Durocher said while he had no idea what sort of proposition Greenberg had in mind, he would not be receptive to any offer unless he would be allowed to buy an interest in the club.

"Under no circumstances would I be interested in managing again unless I could buy into the club," he said.

Durocher spent 16 years as a big league manager, winning three pennants and a world championship. He led the Brooklyn Dodgers from 1939 until mid-season in 1948 when he transferred to the Giants. He won pennants in 1941, 1951 and 1954. He climaxed the '54 season by leading the Giants to a four-game sweep of the Indians in the World Series.

Bears Take Lead In Offense In Pro Football Loop

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24 (AP) — The Chicago Bears, whose backs have gained the most yardage running in the National Football League, lead the pro loop teams in total yards gained with the 1956 season one third over.

The Bears in four games have gained 1,624 yards—949 rushing and 675 passing—to take over first place from last week's leader, the Detroit Lions. Detroit has 1,601 with Los Angeles third with 1,492 followed by New York 1,423 and Green Bay 1,290.

Behind the Bears in the rushing department are their home-town rivals, the Chicago Cardinals, with 849 yards. The Cards and Lions are the only undefeated teams in the NFL.

Los Angeles maintained its No. 1 spot as the league's best gainer in the air, completing exactly half of the 118 passes it has attempted for total yardage of 906. Detroit is second with 789, Green Bay 749.

Claude Benham Is Best Back

Engineered Upset Against Harvard

[By The Associated Press]

In football, even a one-man team can't gain much recognition while he's playing for a loser. But when he engineers a major upset—wow!

That's what Columbia's Claude Benham did last Saturday and as a result he was selected today as the Associated Press Back of the Week.

Beham, a little passing wizard from Portsmouth, Va., has been recognized for three seasons as the major part of Columbia's usually-futile offense. Two days before last Saturday's Harvard game, he wasn't even expected to play because of a leg injury and Columbia's rating dipped accordingly.

But Benham not only played, he stayed in the full 60 minutes and led Columbia to a 26-20 upset victory. He completed 11 of 21 passes for 171 yards, scored one touchdown, passed for two and handed off for the other.

Beham was the second Eastern player selected for top honors this week. Ed Bailey, Syracuse guard, was named AP Lineman of the Week for his defensive feats in stopping Army inches short of a tying touchdown.

Among the others proposed as Back of the Week were Jon Arnett of Southern California, John (The Beast) Bayuk of Colorado, Dave Graybill of Arizona State, Johnny Menger of Georgia Tech and Gerald Nesbitt of Arkansas.

103 Baylor Students Ill After Meal

Athletes Treated For Food Poisoning

WACO, Tex., Oct. 24 (AP)—A total of 103 Baylor University athletes, including almost all members of the Bears' football squad, were treated today for what Coach Sam Boyd said was food poisoning caused by roast beef.

The mass illness forced cancellation of the grid team's final body-contact workout this afternoon in preparation for its crucial Southwest Conference game here Saturday against Texas A&M.

The game has national importance as A&M is ranked seventh in the country in the current Associated Press poll and Baylor is rated eighth.

Boyd said that the only athletes who did not become ill after last night's meal in the dining room of the athletes' dormitory were 12 students who are at their homes.

Dr. Horace Tripett, the team physician, said that he believed all the stricken athletes would be back to full physical strength by game time Saturday.

Forty-nine of the athletes were football players. The others were basketball, and track men. Their illness also forced cancellation of basketball, freshman football, and cross-country practice sessions today.

The athletes started getting sick early last night. Some became very ill, several were up all night, and some tried to attend classes today only to become sick in the class room. The illness did not strike all the students at the same time. Symptoms were stomach cramps, nausea and vomiting.

Back Bill Nebraska In VMI Hospital

LEXINGTON, Va., Oct. 24 (AP)—Quarterback Bill Nebraska was in the VMI Hospital today and may miss Saturday's Southern Conference football game between the Keydets and Davidson at Davidson, N. C. He is nursing a leg bruise.

The rest of the Keydet squad scrimmaged in the mud and worked on defense. Freshman quarterback Jim 'Dell was moved up to the varsity and took over the No. 3 role. He will make the varsity trip if Nebraska is left behind, leaving the freshman team to play Fork Union Military Academy with a reserve quarterback on Saturday.

Pajama Tops Scores Upset In Futurity

Wins $12,523 Race At Laurel Track

LAUREL, Md., Oct. 24 (AP)—Halcyon Farm's Pajama Tops came in with a furious stretch drive, after trailing the field for a quarter mile, to register an upset in the $12,523 Maryland Futurity today at Laurel race course's opening.

He scored by two lengths over Saggy Farm's Sag's Gem who, coupled as entry with Some Classic and Superb, went off as a 2-to-5 favorite. Some Classic finished third another five lengths back and three lengths in front of Mrs. Raffale DeMarco's Singing Bush for fourth.

Pajama Tops, who had won his previous start for the only other victory in his five-race career, paid $12, $3 and $2.20. Sag's Gem and Some Classic paid the minimum $2.20 and $2.20.

The opening day crowd of 10,504 fans sent $46,146 into the show betting pool on the race and $41,654 of this was on the entry. It resulted in a minus pool that cost Laurel $6,648.42. This included 295 $100 denomination tickets.

Pajama Tops, a Maryland-bred son of Double Brandy-Marcia P. by Discovery, broke last in the field of nine 2-year-olds and seemed content to stay there while Havit You Way and Blue Ray cut out a sharp early pace in the six-furlong feature.

Sag's Gem ridden by Joe Culmone quickly moved into contention nearing the turn and went into the lead with a half mile to go. Veteran Jockey Jimmy Nichols didn't move on Pajama Tops until the field was half way around the turn.

The rangy chestnut colt had passed all but the leader when they straightened out for home and tthere was never much doubt that his charge would be successful. Halcyon Farm, a combination owned by Mrs. Louis Pondfield, Mrs. J. Fred Colwill and Mrs. Max Lesnick, of Baltimore, picked up $7,813.33 for the victory.

Polzer Takes Lead In ACC Pass Catching With 12

GREENSBORO, N. C., Oct. 24 (AP)—Junior end Fred Polzer of Virginia, caught two passes for 35 yards in last Saturday's victory over Lehigh to take over the pass-receiving lead in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Polzer, according to ACC Service Bureau compilations, now has 12 for 140 yards and an 11.7-yard reception average. His closest challenger is teammate Bob Gunderman, who did not catch a single pass against Lehigh. Gunderman has 10 receptions for 102 yards. Jack Ladner of Wake Forest, also shut out Saturday, remains third with nine catches for 92 yards.

North Carolina's Wally Vale needed to punt only twice against Maryland last weekend but made those two for 84 yards to maintain his ACC punting leadership. He has now kicked 16 times for a 42.6-yard average. Charlie Bussey of Clemson is second with a 40.1 average on 13 kicks.

Bussey also leads extra point kicking with an accuracy mark of .750. He has made good six of eight. Alex Hawkins, South Carolina sophomore, is second with .727 on eight for 11.

Redlegs' Birdie Tebbetts Named Manager Of Year

Piloted Cincinnati To Third In League

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 (AP)—George (Birdie) Tebbetts, who instilled a bit of his own inspirational hustle into the Cincinnati Redlegs, today was named National League manager-of-the-year for 1956.

The Redlegs' skipper was an overwhelming choice of the 207 members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America who participated in the annual Associated Press poll. Tebbetts received 160 votes.

The former catcher kept Cincinnati in the thick of National League pennant contention until the next-to-last day. The Redlegs finished third—two games behind the flag-winning Brooklyn Dodgers.

Fred Haney, who took over the Milwaukee helm from Charley Grimm in mid-June and also just missed winning the pennant, was second in the balloting with 34 votes. Under his tutelage, the Braves moved to the front only to stumble in the final days as the Dodgers passed them.

Brooklyn's Walter Alston, the National League manager-of-the-year in 1955, received six votes for his performance this season. Although the Dodgers eventually won out, his demise in the voting was reflected in his team being a prohibitive favorite in the pre-season evaluations.

Tebbetts, who had steered Cincinnati to fifth-place finishes in 1954 and 1955, molded his club into a formidable contender despite a dearth of steady pitching.

But by using his starters in relief roles and others as spot pitchers, Tebbetts managed to squeeze 91 victories out of his staff. In the homestretch he revealed that his most effective pitcher at that time was a converted outfielder Hal Jeffcoat, who posted an 8-2 record.

Writers Pull Switch

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Fourteen sports writers traveling with the Milwaukee Braves for t[illegible]r final National League series against the St. Louis Cardinals tossed a party. The party was for the Milwaukee officials.

Those who attended—even before the pennant was decided—were Manager Fred Haney, Coaches Charley Root and Bob Keely, traveling secretary Duffy Lewis, Trainer Charles (Doc) Lacs and clubhouse man Joe Taylor.

Filly Shows Class

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—Two years ago, William H. Perry, Virginia sportsman, went to E. Barry Ryan's Normandy Farm in Lexington, Ky., to purchase a few horses. He bought five weanlings and one of them turned out to be Alanesian, the filly that may do some running in the $50,000 added Gardenia at Garden State Park on Oct. 20.

Alanesian won her first three races with ease. The 2-year-old miss won at Saratoga on Aug. 16, scoring by six lengths. Eight days later she won the Spinaway stakes by eight lengths. Then won the Astarita Stakes at Belmont Park on Sept. 10 by two lengths.

Bardstown Cops Trenton 'Cap At Garden State

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 24 (AP)—Calumet Farm's classy 4-year-old gelding, Bardstown, stepped to the front as a field of seven star thoroughbreds straightened into the home stretch and went on to win the $81,400 Trenton Handicap by a neck over Summer Tan at Garden State Park today.

Bardstown, carrying top weight of 126 pounds, scored his ninth victory in 13 starts and earned $54,550, and boosted his total earnings to $173,050. He stepped the 1¼ miles in 2:01.4 and paid $6.40, $3.60 and $2.30.

Bardstown, handled cleverly by jockey Willie Hartack who scored his 312th victory of the year—one behind Willie Shoemaker in the race for leading rider honors—raced with the pace all the way. He never was worse than third and responded beautifully when Hartack called on him for the drive.

Television And Radio

Television, like radio before it, is getting awfully intramural. On the Jack Benny show the other night George Gobel visited Mr. Benny and I expect we'll soon see Mr. Benny over visiting Mr. Gobel. Later on the Bob Hope show Desi and Lucy turned up, returning a visit Mr. Hope had made on the first "I Love Lucy" show of the season.

"You come over and help boost my rating and I'll go over and help boost yours," is the battle-cry. The host is expected to provide the jokes. In this case, Hope cast Desi and Lucy in their own format with himself playing the Desi part and Desi playing Fred and Fred playing . . . well, never mind. It was a switch that wore thin after a few minutes.

Hope also loaded the show with Diana Dors, a blonde dish from England; Don Larsen of the New York Yankees; and James Cagney of the movies. He traded stand-up jokes with all these people, performed in several sketches and worked very hard. Still, it was just another Hope show, indistinguishable from many others, and not really very funny. It must have cost a lot of money, though.

In Memoriam

In remembrance of my husband, Jesse L. Easton, who was killed October 25, 1952.

Your memory to me is a keepsake,
With which I shall never part
Though God has you in His keeping,
I still have you in my heart.

Sadly missed by

Cards of Thanks

I wish to take this means of expressing my sincere thanks and appreciation to all who were so kind to me during the illness and death of my sister, Mrs. Katie Rush. I also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and donated cars for the funeral.

Chest Victory Dinner Tonight

Winning Teams Will Meet For Final Reports, Oscars

This is victory day for the Cumberland Community Chest.

Volunteer workers in the drive to raise $137,000 for this area's nine Red Feather agencies will meet at 6:15 p. m. in Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club and pay for their dinners as they hear victory reports on the campaign.

Victory has been in the air since the general campaign opened on October 9 with over $100,000 of the $137,000 goal pledged.

Lewis J. Ort, general campaign chairman, will preside at the dinner session and the report meeting, which is scheduled to end promptly at 8 p. m.

Capt. Daniel Biggs, commander of the Salvation Army Citadel, will give the invocation and dinner music will be played by Peter Lukas.

To Present Oscars

Division reports will be presented to Dr. Lillian C. Compton, Residential chairman; Harold D. Barber, Sales Army; Woodward D. Pealer and Edward L. Ewald, Classified, and Edmund S. Burke, Advance Gifts.

Division leaders will present Oscars to some 50 captains, majors and zone leaders who met or exceeded their goals in the drive.

It will be the highest number of awards ever made in the history of the Cumberland Community Chest.

Dr. W. Royce Hodges will speak for the community in a brief address, "Cumberland is grateful."

"Appreciation from the Agencies" will be expressed by Dr. Charles L. Kopp, president of the Cumberland Community Chest.

To Hail Team Victory

"A team victory" is the theme of Ort's address marking the close of the campaign.

Mrs. Lewis J. Ort is attendance chairman for the Victory Dinner, and reservations may be made by calling Chest Campaign Headquarters, PA 2-3900.

Last year's campaign resulted in contributions of $115,925.47, or 92 per cent of a $126,000 goal.

Mapor industries, including B&O, the Celanese Corporation of America, the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company and the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, have reserved tables so labor-management committees who worked on the drive may be together to hear the Victory report.

Win Gold Stars

Fourteen more Gold Stars were awarded to firms in the Classified Division yesterday. They include:

Pen Mar Brick and Supply Company, Henry Kuhn, National Biscuit Company, E. J. Albrecht Company, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company store.

Queen City Dairy, Hazelwood Construction Company, Cumberland Steel Company, Allegany Instrument Company, WTBO, Auto Accessories, Peoples Life Insurance Company, Buchanan Lumber Company and American Oil Company.

School teachers, Arthur G. Ramey, chairman reported yesterday, have pledged $1,912.80 toward the drive.

Ort mc. yeste.day at the exhibit of the B&O Railroad's new Daylight Speedliner parked at the Queen City Depot's passenger siding with B&O Cumberland Division department heads to receive that company's employes' contributions.

B&O Tops Goal

The Chest Drive conducted among the employes netted a total of $6,705. The B&O's goal here was $6,000.

T. J. Klauenberg, who presented Ort with the money, praised the members of the brotherhoods and staff employes who contributed their time and effort to the intra-company solicitation.

Department drive heads were James W. Price, freight agent; J. H. Brown and Nelson W. Kaylor, chief clerk and superintendent of the B&O Bolt and Forge Shop; B. F. Hotchkiss, road foreman of engines; W. T. Dillon, division storekeeper; R. W. Pitcher, terminal trainmaster; A. E. Beckman, master mechanic; J. A. Gross, assistant trainmaster, and W. M. Kefauver, division operator.

Jailed Drivers Entitled To Use Telephone

Finan Suggests Limit Of 2 Calls

Persons arrested by city police for driving under the influence of alcohol should be allowed to make two telephone calls, Thomas B. Finan city solicitor, has suggested in a letter to Chief R. Emmett Flynn.

Finan said, "One of our state police magistrates has brought to my attention the fact that it is apparently the policy of the City Police, when they have made an arrest for driving under the influence of alcohol, not to permit the party arrested to make a phone call until four hours after the arrest.

"I feel that we cannot legally justify this rule." Finan suggested the limitation to two phone calls.

Calls should be restricted to either a friend or the family of the person arrested, and to his attorney, he added.

"If we allow calls to be made to a friend, family or attorney," Finan continued, "the arrested person cannot then later claim that he was not given his constitutional right to seek advice or counsel.

"This suggestion on my part would not prevail where there has been manslaughter by a motor vehicle and perhaps the State's Attorney wishes to talk wtih the person arrested prior to his talking to anyone else.

"In such a serious case, you should consult the State's Attorney's office."

Coal Weight Check Slated By Policemen

The Cumberland Police Department is waging a campaign to protect citizens from being charged for more coal than is actually on a truck.

Police Chief R. Emmitt Flynn requests that all officers be on the alert and pick out at random trucks loaded with coal, check the weigh bill and have them go back to the city scales and have the coal reweighed at no extra cost.

If the amount of coal on the truck is less than that shown on the weigh bill, a violation of a city ordinance, the trucker will be brought into headquarters and made to post $50 bond.

Every person, firm, or corporation delivering mineral coal or coke in the city limits must have it weighed at the scales.

Chief Flynn points out that every person, firm or corporation convicted of refusing to comply with, or violating the provisions of Section 8, Chapter 26, "Weights and Measures," of the Ordinances of the City, will be fined not less than $5 nor more than $50 for each offense.

'Hot Rodder' Fined $21.50

A 16-year-old Wempe Drive boy had his day in court yesterday as the result of a Police Department drive against hot-rodding in the Williams Street-Fort Hill High School area.

Arrested by Officer Louis Downey, the lad pleaded guilty before Magistrate Donald W. Mason to charges of driving without an operator's license and on tags issued to another vehicle.

He was found guilty and fined $10.75 on each charge.

The magistrate suspended a 20-day jail sentence imposed in default of the fines on condition he either sell the used car he bought, or obtain operator's license and valid tags.

Magistrate Mason said the Police Department has received numerous complaints of "hot-rodding" on Williams Street and the Fort Hill area.

Dollars For Democrats Drive Ends Saturday

The Dollars for Democrats campaign has been extended until Saturday, according to Julius Schindler, chairman of the project.

Petitions have been circulated among party workers in all sections of the county, and these workers requested that the drive continue until the end of the week, he explained.

Rep. Hyde Says U.S. 40 Bypass Fault Of Demos

Declares Decision Made Years Ago

Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde last night told a Garrett County Republican rally that the Democrats are responsible for the omission of part of U. S. Route 40 from Hancock to Washington, Pa. from the Interstate Highway System.

In his talk at Southern High School in Oakland, Hyde pointed out that specific highways are not mentioned in the Federal Highway Act of 1956, and were never a part of the measure.

The law establishing the Interstate Highway System makes the selection of its links an administrative decision to be made by the Bureau of Roads and state highway officials, Hyde continued.

Democrats Decided

The decision with regard to this portion of Route 40, he added, was made many years ago under a Democratic administration.

He told those in attendance that "your Senators and I are working with the proper officials to correct the mistakes of previous Democratic administrations."

Hyde also said that "despite the false and misleading propaganda being spread by the opposition in this campaign, I voted for improvements in Social Security in both the 83d and 84th Congresses.

"I voted for increased unemployment compensation, for pay raises for postal and federal workers, and I voted for a $7.5 billion tax cut, half of which went directly to the individual taxpayer."

"Doesn't Check Facts"

On the question of natural gas, "I voted to place control of prices at the point of production, in the hands of the states rather than the federal government. Could it be my opponent just doesn't bother to check facts?"

Hyde also told his audience of his work over the past four years in getting approval of the Little Youghiogheny Watershed Project and the Friendsville Flood Control Project.

He also spoke of his legislation to provide technical assistance to the area and studies to find new uses for coal.

Principal speaker at the rally was George Smith of the Republican Policy Committee.

Stole Stolen From Store; Value $800

A mink stole, valued at $800, has been reported stolen from a local department store.

City police received a call about 1:40 p. m. yesterday that the stole had been taken from the store about noon.

Police Detective Lt. James E. Van and Thomas J. See are investigating. Van said that the stole, a Royal Pastel, is light brownish in color.

Two women are suspected in the grand larceny of the fur piece. Van said one of the women, about 50 years old, is of medium build, five feet seven inches tall, has blonde hair and was wearing light clothing.

The other suspect is about five feet four inches tall, is between 45 and 50 years old, has dark hair and dark clothes and was wearing a small, close-fitting hat.

The expensive fur was taken from the second floor of the store, Van pointed out.

The Retail Merchants Association tomorrow will kickoff its annual Fall Festival of Values and is ofering $500 in free prizes during the three-day event.

All stores which are members of the Retail Merchants Association of this Tri-State shopping center are offering a large variety of values during the Fall Festival days—Friday, Saturday and Monday.

In connection with the sales which will mark the opening of the fall shopping season in Cumberland, the Retail Merchants Association is offering $500 in gift certificates.

A total of 37 free prizes will be awarded. They include a $100 gift certificate, two $50 gift certificates, four $25 gift certificates, 10 $10 gift certificates and 20 $5 gift certificates.

Everyone is eligible to enter the contest, but no person can win more than one prize.

You don't have to buy anything to enter the contest.

Simply clip the coupons that appear in today's Cumberland News or Cumberland Evening Times—or draw a reasonable facsimile—print your full name and address on each coupon and deposit them in the store whose name appears on the coupons not later than Monday at 9 p. m. Coupons which are not deposited in the proper store will be eliminated from the drawings.

The more stores you visit and the more coupons you deposit, the better your chances of winning one of the free prizes.

Stores will be open Friday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., Saturday from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m., and Monday from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Merchants who are members of the Retail Merchants Association have been planning the Fall Festival of Values for the past year.

Merchants point out the values will include the newest and most wanted fashions, the latest in homeware, furniture and children's wear, in fact, most of the things you want in the fall — right when you want them.

The special values and the free prizes, officials said, are being offered by Cumberland merchants to show their appreciation for the patronage of the people of the Tri-State area during the past year.

It is another phase in the association's program to maintain the Queen City's position as a top shopping center.

Butler Answers Oil Blast; Mahoney Hits Farm Policy

Demos Backed Him In Vote On Bill, Declares Senator

Opponent Would Put Farmer Off Land, Asserts Democrat

BALTIMORE, Oct. 24 (AP)—Sen. Butler today defended his vote on the tidelands oil bill by citing a 1949 resolution unanimously passed by the Democratic-controlled Maryland General Assembly favoring the action.

The Republican senator made the statement in reply to one by his Democratic opponent, George P. Mahoney. Mahoney had criticized the act turning over tideland oil rights to the individual states and had noted that Butler voted for it.

Unanimous Approval

Butler said:

"It might interest him (Mahoney) to know that on March 4, 1949, the Maryland General Assembly unanimously passed Joint Resolution 8, requesting the Congress of the United States to enact a bill confirming the title of the several states of the union to submerged lands within their borders . . .'

"The Assembly resolution pointed out that the State of Maryland is the owner of approximately 1,600,000 acres of submerged lands covered by the tidal waters of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries, as well as some 61,000 acres of submerged lands of the Atlantic coastal shelf within three miles of the shore, subject only to federal powers of navigation, commerce and national defense."

Would Mahoney Differ?

Butler said the resolution also said that "our senators and members of the House in Congress are hereby requested to give their active support to legislation which would recognize and confirm State ownership of such property."

"Am I to assume," said Butler, "that in the light of Mr. Mahoney's attacks on my vote to return the tidelands to the states, that he would have, contrary to the policies of his own party in Maryland and to the wishes of the people of Maryland, gone along with that small hard core of New and Fair Dealers who voted against this proposal had he been in the Senate?

"Only Mr. Mahoney can answer this question. My guess is that he won't. Each time he is called on his irresponsible statements he takes heel and runs for cover."

WESTMINSTER, Md., Oct. 24 (AP)—George P. Mahoney said tonight Sen. John Marshall Butler has failed to oppose Republican farm policies "which are deliberately aimed at putting the small farmer off his land."

Mahoney made the statement in a speech prepared for delivery at a Carroll County dinner here in his Democratic campaign for the seat held by the Republican senator.

The Democratic candidate quoted Butler as saying in 1953 that in Agriculture Secretary Benson "farmers are truly represented by one of their own."

But "figures prove," Mahoney said, that Benson's policies help "big business instead of helping farmers."

The "Cheese Deal"

Mahoney referred to "the famous cheese deal which came to light earlier this year" in a congressional committee report.

"The Department of Agriculture used your tax dollars to buy 85-million pounds of cheese and five-million pounds of butter—not from farmers. . . but from processors, spaghetti makers, big restaurant chains and other businesses," he said.

"On the same day it bought these commodities, the government agreed to resell them to these businesses at a lower price. The goods itself never left the places where it was stored.

"Without doing a thing, except to sign an agreement with the government, these people made a profit of two and one-half million dollars.

No Help To Consumers

"Among those who profited were the Borden Co., the Kraft Co., the National Biscuit Co., and Armour and Co.

"The congressional committee found that the deal did not help the consumer by bringing prices down. In fact, it caused a shortage of cheese in the grocery stores because processors were holding cheese off the market so they could sell it to the government.

"That's an example of how Benson favors big business over the farmer," said Mahoney.

The candidate said Benson's policies "also favor the big farmer over the small. Time after time, Benson and his assistants have said there are too many farmers in this country."

Mahoney said Butler "has never raised his voice in protest against those policies" and "has not lifted a finger to help the little man."

The Mechanicsville dinner wound up Mahoney's tour of Carroll County, on which he was accompanied by Del. A. Gordon Boone (D-Balto), Democratic candidate for Congress.

Damage Suits Are Removed For Trial

Two damage suits totaling $4,500 filed this past summer in Allegany County Circuit Court have been ordered removed to Washington County Circuit Court in Hagerstown by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Herbert Collins of Rawlings, defendant in the suits, feels that he cannot have a fair and impartial trial in the local court, according to Simon Reilly and Estel C. Kelly, his attorneys.

The damage suits stemmed from an auto accident on July 19, 1955, near Dawson along McMullen Highway, in which Ernest Van Pelt, son of Claude M. Van Pelt, died as a result of injuries.

The victim's father is seeking $1,000 for hospital bills and burial expense, and also $3,500 for the loss of the services of his son, who resided with him, and for the loss of wages up until the time he would have been 21 years of age.

Driver of the car was Troy Collins, who was under the legal age. The necessary form to obtain a license was signed by his father, Herbert Collins. Young Van Pelt was 18 years of age at the time of the accident.

Troy Collins, according to the declarations, drove the car in a reckless and careless manner and lost control of it. The car ran off the highway, hit the left bank, swerved to the right and turned over on the highway.

Attorney for Van Pelt is Edward J. Ryan.

Prosperity May Cause Cut In Staff Of State's Employment Department

BALTIMORE, Oct. 24 (AP)—Times are getting so good in Maryland that the State Department of Employment Security is considering a cut in its own work force.

Chairman Robert B. Kimble of the Employment Security Board reported sharp reductions in the number and amount of benefit checks paid out last month and said:

"The drop in the number and amount of payments to the unemployed is partly seasonal, but it also reflects the continuing high level of economic conditions.

"In fact, the general economic well being. . . is so pronounced that this department is considering a reduction in its work force in anticipation of a possible budget cut in the next quarter."

The activities of the department are financed by federal funds and are under federal government budgetary control. Kimble said:

"Our budget, and hence the size of our work force, is predicated on the average weekly work load of previous fiscal periods. But budget allocations are reviewed quarter. When the load drops below the work load average, we are subject to a cut in funds.

"Good business practice therefore dictates that we begin to reduce our staff now.

"The reduction will be gradual and we hope to bring it about without furloughing present employes. We will simply stop new hiring and let normal attrition do the rest."

Kimble reported that benefits paid by the department in September totaled $837,359, off $364,015 or 30.3 per cent from the $1,201,374 paid in August and off $18,363, or 2.1 per cent, from the $855,722 paid in September of 1955.

The number of employment insurance checks issued last month dropped to 33,918, down 15,462 or 31.3 per cent from the 49,380 issued in August and down 2,395 or 6.6 per cent from the 36,313 issued in September 1955.

Woman Gets Right To Vote For Ike

Legal Opinion Is Issued In Case

"I'm for Ike," a local woman jubilantly reported yesterday on learning that a decision by an assistant attorney general of Maryland gives her the right to cast her first ballot in America on November 6.

She is Mrs. Jeanine Fair, wife of Joe Fair, 500 Magruder Street. She is a former Belgian citizen.

Mrs. Fair came to the United States in 1947 and became an American citizen in March 1953. A year later, she married the local man while he was serving with the Air Force in Texas.

They returned here to make their home when he was discharged early in August, and went together to the Board of Election Supervisors to register for the coming elections.

William A. Wilson, chairman, reported that Fair, who with a brother operates Fair's Atlantic Service in Frostburg, was registered immediately, since he had been in the Armed Forces.

Requests Ruling

According to Maryland's election laws, Mrs. Fair failed to meet the one-year residence requirement, he said.

Mrs. Fair was advised by Wilson to contact the Secretary of State. He referred her right back to the election board.

The next step was a full board meeting, at which John M. Robb, attorney, pointed out the board was powerless to act and agreed to contact the Attorney General.

In his ruling, Alexander Harvey II, assistant attorney general, said Mrs. Fair "assumed the residence of her husband at the time of her marriage, and even though the marriage took place in Texas, if the husband was properly a resident of Allegany County, the wife would be legally qualified to register and vote in that county after the period of one year."

"It is clear," Harvey said, "that the residence of a husband for voting purposes determines the residence of a wife," and that the Attorney General's office has ruled "that one who enters the military service does not lose his residence for voting purposes in the county from which he enlists."

Mrs. Fair said last night she was grateful that the Board of Election Supervisors did not drop her case and made it possible for her to vote, especially this year.

She said she had registered Republican, but added she was not really voting for the party as much as for the man they put up, since "I'm for Ike."

Democracy Is Topic Of JC Contest

Plans are under way for the 10th annual "I Speak for Democracy" contest sponsored by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce.

Eldred W. Steinmann, chairman of the local contest, said 16 area high schools have been contacted and have been invited to be represented.

Steinmann said the contest is open to high school students in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades. Each talk should be limited to five minutes.

Each school will conduct its own elimination contest to select its outstanding speaker to compete in the finals for this area.

The local winner will be selected Sunday, November 18, at radio station WCUM. The student who is judged the outstanding speaker will then represent this section in the state finals in Baltimore sometime in December.

The committee, assisting Steinmann, consists of James Conlon, Bruce White and Leonard Schwab.

Two Fort Hill High School graduates were past state winners in the "I Speak for Democracy" contest. George Eskin won in 1954, and Richard Dailey was winner in 1950.
